JUDGE CONSIDERS CONTEMPT OF COURT

ATTORNEYS TO HEAR
EVIDENCE ON WHICH
MIS-TRIAL ORDERED

Will Decide Whether
Charges To Follow In
Sinclair Case

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The kaleidoscopic spotlight that has kept the alleged legal aggressions of Harry F. Sinclair and Albert B. Fall under a pitiless glare of publicity for the past three years today shifted to still another angle.

With the oil conspiracy trial postponed for the present, and the jury tampering probe of the district attorney's office at a standstill, interest today centered around the steps taken by District Supreme Court Justice Siddons to determine whether anyone should be adjudged in contempt of court as a result of the Fall-Sinclair mistrial.

Siddons appointed a committee of three local members of the bar to investigate the sworn charges that things occurred during the course of the trial of the oil king and the former cabinet officer which made a premature ending thereof mandatory. The committee was ordered to sit "forthwith."

Procedure was today being considered by the three members—Major Peyton Gordon, U. S. attorney; John E. Lasky, former U. S. attorney; and James S. Easby-Smith.

It will be their duty to study the four affidavits, and to hear testimony thereon, that caused the mistrial. Two were sworn to by Donald King, reporter for the Washington Herald, and J. Ray Akers, street car conductor. These charged Juror Edward Kidwell with public talking in violation of his juror's oath—he had said, according to the affidavits, "an auto is a block long" out of Sinclair's acquittal.

The remaining two were submitted by Assistant U. S. Attorney Burkinshaw and Shea. More serious in nature, they alleged that Sinclair had hired the Burns detective agency to illegally influence the Teapot Dome jury.

BRITAIN AWAITING REACTION ON U. S.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—Now that great Britain has voluntarily curtailed 1927 naval construction by deciding to lay down the keel of only one cruiser this year instead of the three provided for in the naval program, government officials are waiting to see what the reaction will be in the United States and Japan.

Comment was debated today by the disarmament debate in the House of Commons, especially by the statement by Viscount Cecil that the recent naval limitation conference at Geneva had been wrecked by the meddling tactics of Chancellor of the Exchequer Winston Churchill and the vacillating policy of the government.

Earl Balfour, who headed the British delegation to the Washington conference, attempted to throw oil upon the troubled waters by saying he believed that the collapse of the Geneva parley might be regarded as only an interruption and that "the temporary differences" between America and Britain would be reconciled.

BOOZE RUNNERS ARE CAUGHT AT TOLEDO

TOLEDO, Ohio, Nov. 17.—Three men, alleged to have been in charge of a moving van containing beer and whisky valued at about $10,000 which was seized late Wednesday, are to be arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Frederick W. Gaines here today.

The prisoners gave their names as E. P. Marshall, 28, Detroit; Roy Allison, 28, Cleveland; and Joe Vogel, 29, St. Louis. They contended that their bosses were riding in a conveyance automobile and escaped when the officers approached. It is believed the cargo was brought from Detroit, though the van bears an Indiana license plate.

POULTRY FARM IS DAMAGED BY FIRE

BATAVIA, O., Nov. 17.—Fire which started in an overheated furnace destroyed a number of buildings on the E. C. Amstaett poultry farm, three miles west of here, today. The loss is estimated at about $15,000.

E. C. Amstaett, owner of the farm, and an official of the Ohio State Farm Bureau, had recently constructed a number of modern poultry and incubator buildings on the farm. The loss was partly covered by insurance.

NON-STOP FLYERS MISSING

Will Ask Aid For War Veterans

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Nine years after the Armistice, the American Legion and other veterans' organization will launch a new drive in the coming session of congress to obtain relief for 2,000 disabled emergency World War veterans.

The legion, the disabled veterans of the World War, the veterans of foreign wars, the military order of the World War and score of divisional and regimental association will join forces in seeking the relief. The necessary legislation will be re-introduced by Senator L. D. Tyson, (D) of Tennessee, who served as a brigadier general overseas. The bill provides for the retirement of emergency army, navy and marine officers, who were seriously disabled during the World War, on the same conditions existing for other classes of officers. The bill fitted had the law been enacted, due to a senate filibuster and the refusal of the senate to invoke cloture to insure its enactment. About 2,000 volunteer National Guard and drafted officers will be affected by the legislation. Hundreds more would have been benefited had the law been enacted shortly after the Armistice, as the ranks of the emergency officers have been thinned each year by premature deaths.

The measure twice has passed the senate in previous years only to die because it failed of enactment in the house.

AWAITING WEATHER FOR SOLO FLIGHT OVER PACIFIC

Favorable weather is the only requirement asked by Captain Frederick A. Giles, British ace, for his planned solo flight from San Francisco to New Zealand, by way of Hawaii, Samoa and Australia. This photo shows Giles' plane, the Hess Bluebird, Wanda, at Mills Field, San Francisco. Inset is of Giles.

CAPTAIN GILES PREPARES FOR DANGEROUS PACIFIC FLIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—Tested and ready for its dangerous flight over the Pacific, the Wanda, Captain Frederick A. Giles' Hess Bluebird biplane will be taken to the runway at Mills Field early today.

If weather conditions are favorable and if the field, softened by recent rains, is suitable for a takeoff, the British airman announced that he expected to have his machine in the air shortly after 9:30 this morning.

The terminal of his flight, if successful, is New Zealand, the first leg of the journey is Hawaii. Four planes have negotiated this difficult journey to Hawaii; three others were lost during an attempt to span the expanse of water. Giles will fly alone, using an electric inductor compass and a magnetic compass for navigating the plane. He will carry sufficient food to last him three weeks. The plane is not equipped with radio, neither does it carry a collapsible boat.

With its capacity load of 430 gallons of gasoline, the Wanda is capable of making 105 miles an hour. As the supply of fuel is lowered, the plane is expected to pick up considerable more speed.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MURDERED MAN HALTED BY DISPUTE

First Wife Claims Body At Rites—Slayer Still Free

HIGHLANDS, N. J., Nov. 17.—The body of Herbert Meisterknecht, inventor and former naval officer who was murdered in his workshop here Monday, is not yet to know the peace of burial.

His remains, taken abruptly from the funeral services yesterday, were placed in a vault today until the two widows who loved him can settle their differences.

The funeral services being conducted yesterday by Mrs. Sophie Meisterknecht, of Yonkers, his second wife, who now claims never to have been divorced, appeared with legal documents ordering the body placed in her custody.

The officiating pastor paused in the midst of his burial services, while friends of the second wife gasped, as the body was removed from the parlor of the Meisterknecht Highlands home.

The first wife, Mrs. Susan Meisterknecht, accompanied by her 15-year-old daughter, who she said was the "only legal widow" and it was on this basis that she secured court orders stopping the funeral.

Meanwhile police continued their search for Alexander Schreiber of Cleveland, brother of Meisterknecht's second wife, who is sought on a murder warrant. Police charge Schreiber killed the inventor because of the latter's second marriage.

C. A. Dwyer, legislative agent of the Grange, recommended a reorganization of county government and tax adjustments to fit modern conditions. He also suggested that Ohio arrange with adjoining states for uniform truck licensing and operating rules.

U. S. BUYS PATENT FOR AIRPLANE WING

LONDON, Nov. 17.—The United States has bought the American patent rights to the new Handley-Page slotted airplane wing, the latest device in aviation construction the Daily Chronicle announced today. The price was $1,100,000.

The slotted wing has a number of slotted surfaces near the edge of the wing that it is maintained will permit an aeroplane to be controlled even after the engine has stalled and the speed has been greatly reduced. The invention is said to be of such efficiency as to enable a pilot to bring his plane to earth safely after his engine has stalled and to remove the danger of a nose-dive. Numerous tests have been made of the device and it is maintained that it will result in increasing the safety of air-travel considerably.

WOMAN INJURED

DAYTON, O., Nov. 17.—One woman was recovering from slight injuries today following a near catastrophe here Wednesday night when a Baltimore and Ohio passenger train clipped the rear end of a street car at the Washington St. grade crossing.

The street car was crowded with people on their way home from work.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Informed by her lover that his financial situation would not permit "the thought of marriage," Miss Grace von Rittberg, 28, believed to be the daughter of a German Countess, ended her own life with poison while her sweetheart paced the floor in an adjoining room, according to information in the hands of police today.

Henry Waver, an artist in whose apartment the girl was found dying, said today, according to police, that he had met Miss Rittberg on an Atlantic liner last spring and had informed her several days ago that he was in no position to consider marriage.

The dead girl was of distinguished American and German parentage. It was revealed today by her mother, with whom she lived in an apartment here.

The Countess von Rittberg, her mother, said that the girl was a niece of John E. Campbell, once governor of Ohio and a granddaughter of Representative Lewis D. Campbell, of Ohio, close friend of Abraham Lincoln.

Her father, Countess Benno von Rittberg, once chamberlain to the Prince of Lippe, was divorced by her mother eighteen years ago.

"PRINCESS XENIA" OVERDUE AND STILL MISSING IS REPORT

English Aviators Would Have Used Up Gas By 11:30 a. m.

UPAVON AIR DROME, WILTSHIRE, Eng., Nov. 17.—Anxiety over the fate of aviators Robert McIntosh and Bert Hinkler was felt here this afternoon. Up to 1:30 o'clock nothing had been heard of the airmen since they hopped off Tuesday to attempt a non-stop flight to India in the British plane "Princess Xenia."

A dispatch from Delhi, India, said that Royal Air Force headquarters in that city had received no news of the "Princess Xenia."

The supply of gasoline should have lasted until 11:30 a. m. today, but it was estimated that, if the aviators had been able to maintain their schedule, they should have reached Karachi at 8 a. m.

Anxiety has been increased by the fact that the airmen followed an unexplored route via Warsaw, Odessa, Afghanistan and the Himalayas.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—Word was still lacking in all official sources today as to the whereabouts or fate of the plane "Princess Xenia" carrying Captain Robert McIntosh and Bert Hinkler which took off from Upton Tuesday in an attempted non-stop flight to India.

Captain McIntosh and Hinkler hoped to break the non-stop flight record established by Clarence Chamberlin. When they took off they were warned of adverse weather conditions.

GOVERNMENT WILL ATTEND SESSIONS

GENEVA, Nov. 17.—The acceptance of the United States government to participate in the preparatory disarmament conference to open here November 30, was received today by the League of Nations secretariat.

The acceptance stated that the representatives of the United States would state the views of their country on the creation of a special committee for arbitration security.

Hugh Wilson, American minister to Switzerland, will lead the United States delegation. Associated with him will be George Gordon, first secretary of the American Embassy at Paris; Pierpont Mossart, secretary of the American Ministry in Switzerland; and Sidney Tuck, consul general at Geneva.

PRESIDENT TO GET MEDAL FROM CLUB

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—President Coolidge, whose official duties compel him to pin medals on a good many breasts, will himself be the recipient of a medal tonight.

The president will leave here this afternoon for Philadelphia to be the guest of the Union League Club. He is to be awarded the league's gold medal for public service, and will deliver an address.

Mr. Coolidge will return to Washington immediately after the speech.

CENTENARIAN DIES

WILLIAMS, Cal., Nov. 17.—Personal friend of Abraham Lincoln, General Grant and General Lee, Mrs. James Hamilton, 104 years old, was dead here today.

CORONER PROBES MYSTERY IN UNUSUAL DEATH OF CHILDREN

CLEVELAND, Nov. 17.—Coroner A. P. Hammond today was investigating circumstances surrounding the death of two children here, and the serious illness of another, all the same family. George and Frank Machnicki, aged 4 and 6 years, respectively, died within a few hours of each other at their home yesterday, and while police and city chemists were investigating the possibility of poison being responsible, Harry Machnicki, one-year-old, became seriously ill and was removed to a hospital.

Mrs. Bartholomew Machnicki, mother of the children, told police George had been ill Tuesday night and she gave him a dose of patent medicine Wednesday morning. Frank also complained and she gave him some stomach drops.

Attending physicians said the baby was suffering from a form of intestinal inflammation and that evidence indicated the cause boys had died from the same cause.

ROY ARCHER VICTIM OF AUTO WEDNESDAY ON S. DETROIT ST.

Walter Grooms, Driver Of Auto, Will Be Quizzed By Police

Roy Vernon Archer, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Archer, 8, Columbus St., died in Espee Hospital Wednesday night at 9:30 o'clock, from a fractured skull, sustained when he was struck by an auto, owned and driven by Walter Grooms, 21, Cottage Grove Ave., four hours earlier.

Archer received a fracture at the base of the skull and did not regain consciousness. The accident happened on S. Detroit St., when Archer was crossing the street in front of the Xenia Supply Co., where he is employed, to enter an auto driven by his brother, Howard Archer.

Grooms was driving south on Detroit and later told police that he did not see Archer and did not know he struck anyone at the time. Archer was picked up by his brother and rushed to the hospital where his condition was pronounced serious.

Jesse Dorton, sub-patrolman, who has been employed at the Xenia Supply Co., with Archer, obtained Grooms' license number and later accompanied him to police headquarters. Grooms was questioned and released Wednesday night but was scheduled to appear Thursday afternoon, for further examination. He is employed as truck driver for Thomas Cummings.

Coroner F. M. Chambliss viewed Archer's body Thursday morning and pronounced death due to a fractured skull. He was to question Grooms Thursday and will hold an inquest if an eye witness to the accident can be located. He will attempt to learn if Grooms was driving at a high rate of speed and without lights as reported.

Archer was born near Bowersville, October 28, 1906, and had been employed at the Xenia Supply Co. since last spring.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Archer, and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. John Kiser, Jamestown; Homer Archer, Highland, O.; the Misses Goldie and Myrtle Archer and Howard Archer, at home and Mrs. Roy Archer, Xenia.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the home with burial in Jamestown Cemetery.

BUMPER CROPS DRAW BLAME FROM GRANGE FOR FARMERS' ILLS

Large Crops Cutting Prices Kansas Official Says

CLEVELAND, Nov. 17.—Bumper crops were being blamed by many state masters for the present ills of the farmer, throughout the country, as they continued reporting to the National Grange here today in the sixty-first annual convention.

For example, Kansas is disappointed again with a bumper crop of corn, Caldwell Davis, Kansas state master, stated in his report yesterday. Whereas farmers expected in September to receive $1 a bushel for a medium crop, they are accepting fifty cents for their 175,000,000 bushels, Davis said.

R. W. Smith, of Iowa, reported that "many an Iowa farm can be bought today for barely the cost of its improvements."

Following completion of state masters reports, the grange this afternoon was to take up the introduction of resolutions without debate.

According to information received from Washington by the Grange Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, was to arrive here today to address the national convention. Senator W. E. McNary, of Oregon, co-author of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill, also was expected to speak late today or Friday.

HUNTER DIES

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 17.—Henry Phillips, 60, farmer, found dead in a garage at his home today, is believed to be a belated victim of the hunting season. After a hunting trip Wednesday, Phillips complained this morning that he felt tired and was later found dead in the garage. Death was attributed to heart failure aggravated by over-exertion.

NOT SUCH A BAD LOT

Will Durant makes a profound and optimistic observation upon the human race in the course of his mental autobiography "Transition," recently published. He is discussing how his parents sacrificed much in order that he might have a good education. He observes that his father was a wholly illiterate man, yet with such an appreciation of the value of learning that he was willing to do without ordinary comforts of life so as to furnish his children with a better start in life than he had had.

"I have often reflected," says Durant, "on this impulse, which seems to be so deeply rooted in every parent's heart, to give the children a finer rearing than their own. We are not such a bad lot, after all. . . . we utter a regrettable amount of nonsense on our parabola through the world, but we can love with a magnificent devotion."

One would have said that Durant was a confirmed pessimist if one had read his philosophical and economic writings only. A man can be a pessimist philosophically and economically. But when this cynical philosopher writes about his own family and his own experiences with men and women, he is forced to become an optimist. The world may be gray with the smoke of wars and the sun may be hidden by sinister clouds of doom, but beneath the clouds and within the mist there still abides the flame of love, which warms the heart of humanity.

MORE GOLF WIDOWS NOW

The day—or, perhaps we should say, the night—is at hand when 24-hour golf will be possible in this or any other country where there are well-kept links, with rough not too high or tangled. At any rate, several steps have already been taken toward the achievement of that golfbug's millennium.

Not so very long ago, at a popular summer resort in New York state, elaborate arrangements were made for the electric illumination of the golf course adjoining the hotel. A four-some composed of professionals and amateurs played an 18-hole match-somewhere around midnight, which was reported to be quite successful. No records were broken, but it was said that the brand of golf displayed was almost up to the daylight average of the four contestants. That idea, however, extended no further throughout the country, so far as we know.

But now comes another notion—or, let us say, more light upon the situation. Millard J. Bloomer, a golf enthusiast of New York, has invented a luminous golf ball. It is the ordinary white ball, we are told, but it is treated with a chemical (some variant of phosphorus, no doubt) which keeps it "burning bright in the forest of the night."

The Way of the World

THE WAY OF MOTHERS

A very young man with bell-bottomed trousers and oily hair confessed in a certain city police court the other day that he had struck his mother, after quarreling with her. After the judge had properly sentenced him to jail, the plea of the lad's mother saved him from a cell. There was quite a story about this incident in the newspapers. Strange that there should have been, for there was nothing so unusual about it. A thousand mothers have pleaded for a thousand sons who have wronged them. A thousand mothers will do it again. It is love without hope of reward. Somebody has said that it is the way of life. It is not the way of life but it is the way of mothers.

RIGHT—NOT MIGHT

Lloyd George, former prime minister of England, predicts the most terrible war in the world's history unless the nations make up their minds to seek justice and protection from "established right" and not from force. One by one great minds of the modern day come to the conclusion that big armies and big navies can never insure the lasting peace of the world. Armament can never be more than a temporary safeguard. Sometime, somehow, the conviction must take permanent root in the minds of men that right is mightier than might.

PERPETUAL MOTION

"Perpetual motion inventors" have been laughed at through the ages. And yet, over in Switzerland, at Zurich, there is a clock that has never been wound. It ticks merrily on. It is run by a mechanism set in motion every time the temperature changes two degrees. And the temperature changes often. What's the difference between that and perpetual motion?

NO TIDINGS

A New Jersey doctor, pronounced dead from heart disease, comes back to life for a few hours. To surrounding physicians he said: "Why did you bring me back? I was in heaven."

But he brought no tidings of heaven, and now he is really dead. Despite all the efforts of the spiritualists, the psychics, the experimenters, there is no definite, convincing, satisfying word from the realm of the next life. That is not important. Those who study men and women the most and know them best are sure they are not meant to flicker out like the end of a candle. Vision and imagination, qualities of men, are far too great for this life alone. The capacity for development is evident. There must be a place, in all the years to come, for a human being to grow into his own.

WE'LL KNOW THEM

Edison, great scientist, says he is convinced there is a Supreme Intelligence pervading the universe. And he adds: "When we die, we'll know. Why argue about it?" That's a good idea.

Be sure that a Supreme Intelligence will deal with human beings justly. And be sure you won't get any more than justice. Nobody deserves any more.

BRAINS WIN

Some Chicago university co-eds are mourning. They say men want only beauty and care nothing for brains in women. Co-eds who talk that way must have more beauty than brains. They don't know many men. The average man would probably vote for brains first; for housekeeping ability second, and for beauty third. Scenery may become tiresome but ideas are always stimulating.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17. — They tell a sad story of a Greenwich Village restaurateur who aspired to heights of interior decoration and who had the walls of his place painted green. Somehow or other his patrons were adversely affected by the change in color. Maybe they are too used to the violent splashes of orange and red and cobalt blues and riotous violets which usually adorn by eating places of that section. Anyhow, the aesthetic minded boss had to give up his apple green dream of delight for his sole marmoset and his spinach in the rain. It is all very sad. The Village has never been in the mood for pastels in its emotions or otherwise.

Two elevator men in Grand Central Palace are discussing the current "Red Knight of Germany" saga, a serial running in Liberty Magazine. One says glibly, out of the side of his mouth: "Aw, this fellow Floyd Gibbons is an Englishman, anyhow." And I think... shades of the sinking of the Lusitania, when this fellow Floyd Gibbons, reporter from the legendary city of Chicago, wrote one of the world's best feature stories. The elevator men are old enough to remember, but they do not.

Cornelius F. Calahane (and there's an actual name no in-better) is an inspector of police long with the New York department. His is the job of commanding a new division of specially trained men, who will be on duty in the new vehicular tunnel between Manhattan and Jersey City. This organization of men is the first ever organized in the United States for this kind of duty. The tunnel police must be privy to many subjects which never come under the average cop's eye. They must understand the character of fire hazards peculiar to tunnels, and must know the means to fight flames originating through spontaneous combustion, or other unusual circumstances. They must be able to provide first aid in the special emergency cases traffic in the tunnel develop. They must know how to direct traffic in a limited space where any stall is likely to develop a terrible traffic jam of the same. The men training for the service attend lectures daily, and go through a course of sprouts at the training field which reminds old-timers of the bucking down to business under a stiff army officer of the old school.

Harlem got its biggest thrill in many years out of the funeral of Florence Mills, its idol singer. There's nothing in the world the average negro enjoys more than a good, spectacular burying, and the pomp and circumstance attending the passing of this magnificent dark-skinned music hall star satisfied even the greediest sensation seeker.

NOTES ON SHIPBOARD

The crowd aboard this sturdy British craft looks incredibly dull; but that doesn't prove anything. Have you ever yet been hurled into a big group of strangers that didn't appear intensely uninteresting at first? Average human beings are never very impressive until you get acquainted with them.

Based on previous experience, I know that from day to day as I learn more about these folks, they will gradually become interesting. Few people are ever wholly uninteresting when you really know them. Even if a person never has any original thoughts, then his excessive normalcy may itself be amusing. For several years I subscribed for a certain Washington newspaper just because the stupidity of the cartoons fascinated me.

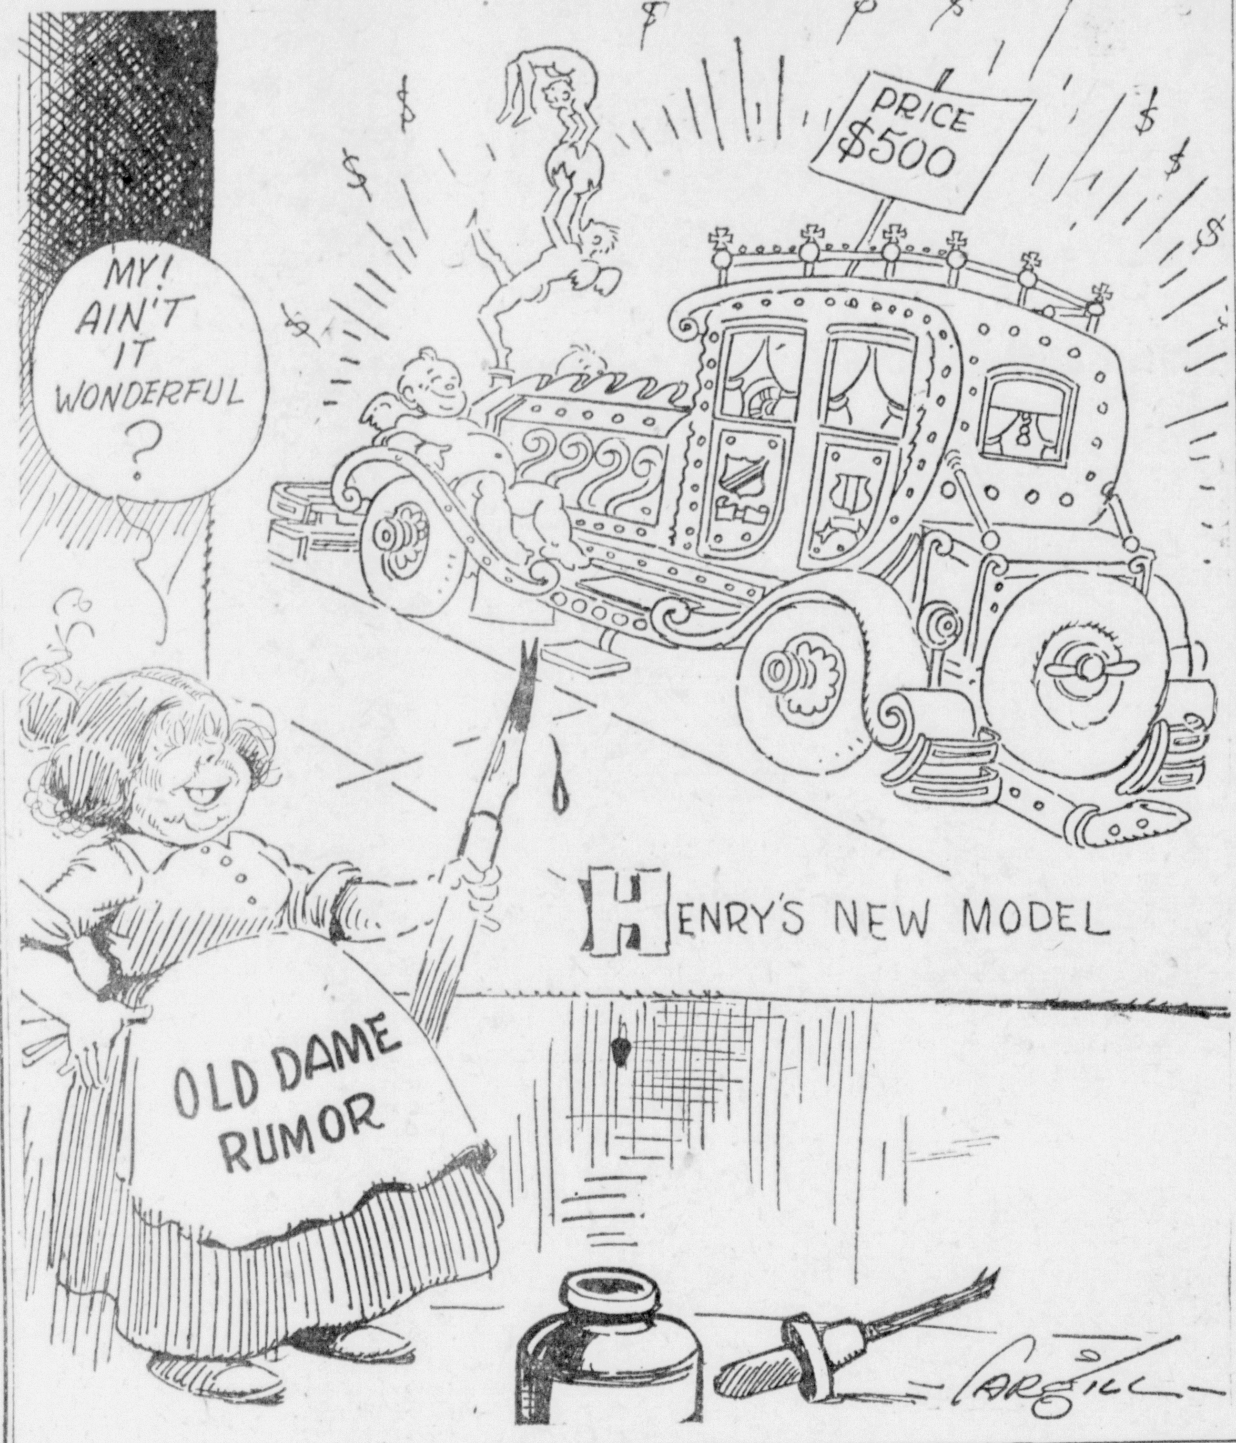

My traveling companion, R. M. Brinkerhoff, who draws illustrations for Uncle George Lorimer's Saturday Evening Post, has a rare knack at making himself at home. He has his suitcases all unpacked and clothes hung up in a closet or carefully put away in drawers down in our stateroom as if he might be all settled down for a year or two.

"It will be much more comfortable and homelike," he says, "after we get things properly fixed up."

don't know just what he means by getting fixed up, unless he is planning to have our stateroom repaired and then hang up some family portraits. He's an odd character, this Brinkerhoff. A powerful big fellow, his two great interests in life are eating and attending prize fights. Yet his comic pictures in the New York Evening World are always about dainty little children. I don't understand it.

We haven't seen so much as a plank in all this vast expanse of water but the wireless operator just told the purser that 30 big ships are within 100 miles of us. That makes everything seem more comfortable. Even though we can't see these ships with the naked eye, it's nice to know that we're in one cozy little group. There's no need to feel lonely or isolated now.

WHEN RUMOR GETS THROUGH WITH IT

Peter's Adventures

By Mrs. Florence Smith Vincent.

The Rattler Rattled

"R-r-r-r" Again that threatening rattle. Faster and faster quivered that strange something just beyond the blackberry cluster; stonier grew that dreadful stare! "Keep out of my brier patch," hissed a voice, and at the hateful sound suddenly Peter recovered his senses. Using all the will he had, he took his gaze from that glittering eye and jumped to one side—jumped just as far as he could, and only just in time. Swish! Long, glistening, dreadful, something much like the lash of a whip whirled through the air and landed, writhing, on the spot where the Boy had stood only a second before. Peter so frightened that the hair stood up on the top of his head, watched a forked, thread-like tongue darting lightning-like over the ground, feeling for something it could not find.

"Missed you that time!" hissed the hateful voice, "but, try, try again! That's my motto! I'll get you, yet!" Swiftly the long, glistening thing wound itself into coils, out from the center of which stared that glittering eye. Up came that something that Peter could now see was the tip of a tail. The tail began to quiver. Peter began to shiver. He was facing the terrible jaws of Mr. Rattlesnake so close that Peter could even see the two sharp fangs in the top of its jaws. Then suddenly, just in time, Peter remembered something and gave a sharp cry. "Don't strike, Mr. Rattlesnake! Don't strike! I am no enemy. I have the lizard's tail!"

It would be hard to imagine anyone more surprised than was Mr. Rattlesnake at Peter's words. His tail gave a wabbling little quiver and back dropped his fangs, for of course no self-respecting serpent can keep his fangs up when his head is down. Mr. Rattlesnake started up at Peter with that unwinking eye, just as glistening, to be sure, as it had been before, but there was such a comical expression about his wide open mouth, his jaws sagging with astonishment, that the Boy, in spite of his fear, had all he could do to keep from laughing. Plainly the Rattler was rattled.

Yesterday I talked to you about mirrors and their great importance in building your beauty. Of all the mirrors the most important is the full-length mirror. Just stop to think how seldom you see "all of yourself." You look at your feet and your hands, you catch a glimpse of your face in a glass, you see your feet coming toward you when you try on new shoes, but it is very seldom that the woman who does not have full length mirror in her home sees herself "as others see her." Your shoes may be neat, your hands well-gloved, your hair made up, your headdress chic, your clothes costly, yet if you are not well put together, you are not attractive.

To me, a full-length mirror is so essential that I do not see how a woman can get along without one. Yet it is surprising how few homes possess one. There is such a general impression that a full-length mirror is a luxury, while it really is not expensive. Mirror can be bought by the foot and quite easily fitted into an open space in the wall or the back of a door with a very simple molding.

When you have your full-length mirror it will tell you many things about yourself that you never knew before. It will dispel self-consciousness and give you a poise and attractiveness that come only from knowing that you look your best in every detail.

You will go out on the street secure in the knowledge that everything about you harmonizes. You will be sure that your skirt hangs just right, that the seams of your stockings are straight, that your figure is flatteringly revealed and concealed. You will never get the same praise and satisfaction from a little hand mirror that gives you a hint about the appearance of your face and lets you guess the rest.

I have talked to you today about the full length mirror and its great value in bringing you face to face with yourself as you really are. In my next talk I am going to take up a particular kind of mirror that has special advantages for beauty. The subject will be "The Value of the Magnifying Mirror to Beauty."

Household Hints

MENU HINTS

Do you have trouble getting your family to eat breakfast or are they hungry first thing in the morning? Breakfast is a hard meal to get, for everyone is in a hurry and it is hard to feel enthusiastic over cooking so early in the morning. Try to vary the menu as much as possible, preparing as much of the meal as you can the night before to expedite matters in the morning.

Orange Juice
Cooked Wheat Cereal with Top Milk
Creamed Tuna Fish or Dried
Beef on Toast
Cookies Coffee

Today's Recipes

Cooked Cereal — The cereal may be cooked in the double boiler the night before and warmed up in the morning. Many people think fruit, cereal and coffee is enough breakfast, and it is for people who are doing ordinary work. Growing young people and those who are out of doors a great deal should eat heartily, if possible.

Creamed Tuna Fish or Dried Beef—Make a cream sauce of one tablespoon butter, one tablespoon flour, one cup milk, salt and pepper. When smooth add one cup flaked tuna fish or shredded dried beef. Serve over squares of toast.

Whole Wheat Nut-Raisin Bread — Four cups whole wheat flour, four teaspoons baking powder, two teaspoons salt, one-half cup sugar, three-fourths cup nut meats (chopped coarsely), three-fourths cup chopped raisins, one egg, two cups milk. Mix and lift together the dry ingredients, add nuts and raisins. Beat egg light, add it to the milk. Combine, beat well. Bake in two loaves in moderate oven 40 to 50 minutes.

Cakes — Little cakes may either be made the day before an affair or bought. Ice with orange icing. Ice cream molded in shapes and colors appropriate to the occasion may generally be secured of a caterer.

Rice and Cheese Casserole

(Mrs. Mary Morton's Daily Tested Recipe.)

Boil three-fourths cup of rice in one quart boiling water until the rice has absorbed all the water. Melt one tablespoon of margarine or butter, add one able-spoon flour, add gradually a pint of milk and cook until smooth, seasoning with pepper and salt. Add one-half cup of grated or finely cut cheese and stir until it is dissolved. Mix with rice and put all in buttered baking dish. Spoon bread crumbs on top and brown in oven for 15 minutes.

BOY, 13, "GETS HIS MAN"

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. — Sidney Perlow, just 13 years old, helps his father in his haberdashery at Sixth Avenue. One morning he started out to deposit $70 in a bank when three doors from the father's shop a man pulled him into a hallway and ordered "hands up." In the excitement the holdup man snapped the trigger and the boy saw that the "pistol" was merely a cigar case. He snatched it and pursued the bandit who was caught in front of a police station. Two years ago the boy's father was held up and also "got his man."

Behind the Scenes in Washington

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. — For undiluted intangibility a vacuum has little on the federal radio commission and all its works.

The commission itself is substantial, uncertain, unreal. It was created by the skin of congress teeth, in the very act of adjournment last spring. It so narrowly missed not being created at all that it did miss any salaries or a cent's worth of financial support.

Its constitutionality's doubtful. Tested, it's a question if there is any such thing.

In the absence of more legislation next winter — and the chances are even that there'll be none — even the present shadow of a commission will dissolve into its original nothingness, without leaving a grease spot.

It deals in nothingnesses, too. Imagine one of its hearings! CRZY asks certain indefinite privileges in an indefinite medium, to do something that nobody understands. MNCL objects, on the ground that it is unascertainable rights which it already enjoys would be prejudiced by the commission's acquiescence in CRZY's indefinite demands.

The Commission (investigating): What is it that CRZY hopes to accomplish if the board concurs in its unknown requirements?

CRZY: That remains to be seen.

The Commission: How do you prove it?

CRZY: We have 1,921 affidavits here, from listeners in, making oath that it's so.

The Commission: But how can your affidavits make oath so confidently, inasmuch as your inexplicable application is as yet untested?

CRZY: We asked them to. The Commission: In that case the affidavits will be received and placed on file.

ceived and placed on file.

MNCL: We have seventeen pounds of affidavits to show that the loss to the indemonstrable number of our listeners-in-sphere of activity were in any degree curtailed.

The Commission (to CRZY): How much do yours weigh?

CRZY: We counted ours. Shall we send out and get scales?

The Commission: Too late. You should have come prepared. Application dismissed for lack of evidence.

This may sound like an exaggeration, but it isn't so far off.

The commission almost frankly, doesn't know whether it's about as horseback, trying to make a small kegful of air or ether, or whatever it is, go round among a howling mob of broadcasters who need a hog-headful, if all are to be taken care of.

Add to this the fact that there are no known rules of procedure before the doer, and it isn't so hard to realize why one of its hearings is a weird thing.

No known rules of procedure is right up to a certain point.

None is known to the commissioners, that is to say, for there isn't a lawyer among the whole five.

Frank D. Scott, who was chairman of the house of representatives committee which wiggled the radio bill through congress at the last minute, is a lawyer, though, and he knows some rules.

Being out of congress now, there's no reason why he shouldn't practice before the commission and he does. If anybody knows the rules that go with his own law, why shouldn't he? However, it doesn't seem quite fair, unless they could have him on both sides of every case.

MEN, HAVE YOU A PAST?

How about it, men, are there any of you past 36 who have not had a purple past? One discouraged woman thinks not. Here is her letter:

"Dear Mrs. Lee: I have been reading your column in the paper and enjoy it so much. Do you think there are any nice unmarried men past 36 who have not had a 'past'? I am a teacher and every time I go to a new place there is always an old bachelor to whom I am introduced and who usually wants to call. After I have been out with him a few times the gossip begin telling me about his past and about his bad reputation. I am disgusted with them all. What do you think about them?"

"A DIXIE SCHOOL TEACHER" I think they average up pretty well with the women, my dear. The average man and woman is pretty decent, you know, and if I were you I'd form my own conclusions about the character of my friends.

A little high school student also has her troubles with her male friends:

"My dear Mrs. Lee: I am a high school student, and I am very popular. There is a boy I am very fond of. He is two years my senior. His sister is one of my best friends. I have invited him to a party. At first he said he would come, then he told his sister he wasn't coming, then he said he would. This afternoon he told a friend of mine to tell me he wasn't coming if he had to go with me, so I told his sister to tell him that if I was spoiling his good time I would stay at home. Oh, I want him to like me, Mrs. Lee, so what shall I do?"

"BROWN EYES" I'm sorry you like him so much, Brown Eyes, because to me he seems just plain rude. If he did not care to attend the party with you he could easily have found an excuse, but he accepted and then was not enough of a gentleman to go through with it, but "told someone to tell you" he wouldn't go. Don't waste time on him, dear.

Will the lady who asked for the address of the woman who does plain sewing and signed her name with the initials, Mrs. E. G. D. please send me the name of her town? I lost the envelope. So sorry.

ALMOST

"Yesterday I was within an ace of having a six-cylinder car given me."

"How was that?"

"When I was coming out of my door I saw the car in front of the house. I know the owner, so I went up to him and said: 'I say, give me this car.'"

"Well?"

"If the fellow had said 'yes' instead of 'no' the car would have been mine."

HOME, SWEET HOME

The following was found pinned on the door of a deserted shanty in North Dakota: "Fore miles from a habour; twenty-five miles from a post office; twenty-five miles from a r. r.; 180 miles from timber; here a mile from water; God bless our home. We're going East to get a fresh start."

HIGH HOPES

The sad-looking man stopped at the lunch-counter and said: "Five ham sandwiches, please."

"Will you eat them here or take them away?" asked the counter man.

"I hope to do both," was the reply.

I Have Said in My Heart

INTRODUCTIONS

Manners always improve with the cultivation of the mind, and we can turn the rule around, for the acquirement of good manners can only be attained by education and observations, followed by habitual practice. It would be a good thing if we had another Addison or Steele to turn our attention to the manners of our time, as these distinguished writers did in the Spectator.

The great mistake that most people make is in acquiring too much manner. Simplicity of both thought and action is the basis of good breeding.

One must use her common sense as well as her kindness of heart and take into consideration that pretension is always a mark of vulgarity.

Introductions are made indiscriminately in America, and there is much to be learned in almost any set about the proper way to present one person to another.

In the first place, you should never introduce one person to another unless you know that it is agreeable to both of them.

"But," you exclaim, "perhaps they are both at my home for an evening party!"

Then these ladies should know the English law that "roof is introduction" and remember that a casual conversation does not hurt anyone, neither does it entail a further acquaintance which might be awkward.

In making an introduction the gentleman is always presented to the lady. The younger woman to the older woman.

In her own house a hostess should always extend her hand to a person introduced to her.

At a dinner party the hostess need only introduce the gentleman to the lady that he is to take in to dinner.

Even after introduction a woman must wait for the woman to bow first when next they meet.

When introducing a man always give him his title, even if you are his wife.

Introductions on the street are not in good taste, as one should not stop long enough in a promenade to present one person to another. If you are with someone and a "kind stop" her on the street, it is good taste for you to walk on slowly.

Memo: Strive to live up to your favorable introduction.

HISTORY PREDICTS VICTORY FOR OHIO IN ILLINOIS GAME

By DAVIS J. WALSH
I. N. S. Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 17.—Some heretic once said that history either seldom or never repeats itself, and really it makes very little difference what he said because in both cases he is all wrong about the Ohio State-Illinois football series. If history repeats as it has in the past, then an inferior Ohio State team will win from a superior Illinois outfit on Saturday and prevent the latter from taking due title to the big ten championship.

It has been done before by supposedly weaker Buckeye or Illinois teams in time to cheat the supposedly stronger team out of the title. In fact, this game somehow has served as the crux of the western conference race a surprising number of times and has witnessed a series of surprising form handshakes, as is proved by the following statistics:

1915—Ohio State, supposed to lose, got a 3 to 3 tie, forcing Illinois to accept a deadlock with Minnesota for the big ten title.

1916—Chick Harley's glory first saw the light of day as he scored the touchdown, tying Illinois, then changed shoes to kick the goal, beating the Illini and winning the title.

1919—Ohio State favored to win but Illini came through, 9 to 7, scoring Harley's only defeat of his conference career. The victory gave Illinois the big ten title.

1920—Ohio State beat Illinois with a forward pass, Workman to Myers, for the only touchdown of the game with the timekeeper's gun sounding the final signal as the ball was in the air. The victory staked the Buckeyes to the title.

1921—Ohio State was supposed to have championship at its mercy since Illinois had won no conference game. But it won this one, 9 to 0, and Iowa took the title.

1922—Ohio State had had a disastrous season, losing to Michigan, Minnesota, Chicago and Iowa. But the Buckeyes stepped out to win from Illinois 6 to 3.

1924—Illinois scored its first victory over Ohio State at Urbana since 1918, winning 7 to 0.

1926—Ohio State had one of the leading middle western teams and Illinois was merely ordinary but it carried the Buckeyes to a 7 to 6 score before it succumbed.

And there one is, as we say at the abattoir. Except for the first game of the series in 1914, which Illinois won by a 37 to 0, no game between Ohio State and Illinois has been decided by a margin greater than nine points, regardless of what may have been thought of the teams in the pre-game calculations. And of the nine games played, five of them either have had an indirect or an extremely direct bearing on the disposal of the Big Ten championship.

So it will be on Saturday. If Illinois can win, it will have a clean conference record and cannot be deprived of the title, regardless of what Minnesota does to Michigan or vice versa.

It wasn't for what has gone before, one would be only a sap to grant Ohio State a chance on Saturday, for the Buckeyes have blown games to Northwestern, Michigan and Princeton and looked none too good in doing it. But, then, there is always the possibility of all extraneous forces at Ohio moving in the same direction at one and the same time.

It may be that those temperamental Buckeye backs will run interference for one another just by way of variety. It may be that Dr. John Wilce, threatened with the guillotine by agitated alumni, will get his forward line playing smart, up and coming football for the occasion.

Even if these things do happen, Illinois should be a natural favorite. But not to win by a big score. History simply forbids any one from being so optimistic as all that.

Grid Captains

JOHN BARNHILL

—TENNESSEE

Tennessee is making a strong bid for the Southern Conference championship this season under the capable leadership of John Barnhill, chosen almost unanimously for a guard position on last year's all-Southern eleven.

Barnhill has been an outstanding star ever since the day he first donned an orange-colored jersey in the fall of 1925. Despite the handicap of weighing only about 165 pounds he is a glutton for work and has missed starting and finishing in very few games during his college career.

In addition to playing football, Barnhill is a member of the Tennessee basketball and track teams. He also plays baseball but is unable to participate in the diamond pastime at Tennessee due to its season running concurrent with that of track.

Barnhill is showing better than ever this year and has served notice by his spectacular play in early season games that he intends repeating for all-Southern laurels.

STAR FLANKER TO PLAY FINALE

LEROY DOAK

Leroy Doak, senior, flashy colored left end on Central High School's football eleven, who winds up his high school gridiron career next week, will play his final game before a home-town crowd in the Xenia-L.D. of D. Preps contest Friday afternoon.

Doak has been playing an exceptional game this season at the flank position, putting terror and fear in the minds of opposing gridriders on the offense and doing everything on the defense expected of him. He is one of the best, if not the best, receiver of forward passes on the squad, and especially dangerous and difficult to upset after receiving aerials.

Doak is also a "ball hawk" and follows the pigskin so closely that he recovers numerous fumbles. Often when Xenia has needed a long gain to make first down, Doak has been called to the backfield and invariably, with his elusiveness, makes the needed yardage.

Doak's place, among others, will be particularly difficult to fill next year.

Amassing a total of 2,165 pins in three games, the bowling team composed of Cleveland, Graham, Spahr, Boxwell, Addison and H. Davis showed the way in the weekly Business Men's League match Wednesday night. Davis led the winners. Box score:

TO HONOR SENIORS AT FOOTBALL GAME

"Senior Recognition Day" will be observed, incident to the Central High School-Dayton Preps football game Friday afternoon.

Shortly before the contest begins, the eleven senior members of the grid squad will be recognized in some way by school officials for their efforts on the team.

If possible all the senior players may be given a chance to play in the game.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D. AUTHOR OF "DIET AND HEALTH" AND "DIET FOR CHILDREN"

My Dear Followers:

When sending me material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a STAMPED, SELF-ADDRESSED envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose TEN cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible. NOT OVER 200 WORDS, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer your personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the STAMPED, SELF-ADDRESSED ENVELOPE if you expect me to send you the information I have offered. — Lulu Hunt Peters.

Answers to Correspondents

Food and Health

"It would seem that the principal cause of death lies in food and drink."

Dr. Hindhede of Denmark published this sentiment, when, during the war, he had charge of the food administration of Denmark. He based this startling conclusion upon the fact that when the diet of the people was regulated as it was in Denmark during that period, the death rate decreased in one year thirty-four per cent. Part of the regulation consisted of this: The cereals and potatoes were taken from the distilleries so that no brandy was made, one-half of the cereals were taken from the brewers and the beer was cut down one-half, so there was less alcohol consumption. Practically all of the animals, except the milk animals, were killed, therefore the diet was a lacto-vegetarian diet. The breads were made of whole wheat and wheat bran and barley meal added. There was a great consumption of potatoes, cabbage and milk, and as I have said, a much lessened consumption of alcohol and practically no meat.

Dr. Hindhede's conclusion about a vegetarian diet was that it is more wholesome because "overnutrition, as a result of palatable meat dishes, is one of the common causes of disease."

Would you like out article on the Balanced Diet? If so, send a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

A Look in the Mirror Satisfies

"Thanks to you and God, I have found something to reduce my fat. Dear Dr. Lulu! I did weigh 237, and in two and one-half months I have lost thirty-four pounds. I am in perfect health and stick to the foundation diet you gave as nearly as possible. I found I couldn't reduce on 1,200 C., went down to 1,000, but didn't succeed, then went to 800 before I began to lose. I do strenuous exercises every day and walk about three miles. If I get hungry, I look in the mirror—that's enough for me!"

MRS. K.
There's one thing that I haven't mentioned frequently enough, perhaps, and that is that you may be a little while on 1,200 calories daily before you begin to reduce, Mrs. K. But eventually you will reduce, because no up-and-around person can get enough food from

"What is the function of the stomach?" teacher asked in the primary physiology class.

"I know," one little girl responded. "It's to hold up the skirt!"

Is yours functioning in this manner? If so, better send for our list of exercises—Atonic Abdominal Wall, and do especially those under the caption "The Tummy Tonic." (Enclose only a self-addressed stamped envelope.)

NOTE: Please send in stamped addressed envelope with requests for answers.

RHEUMATISM

May be relieved by rational treatment—it can not be rubbed away.

Are you one of those unfortunate who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, commonly called rheumatism, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep? You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.? For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude. "I suffered from rheumatism my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried almost everything. Went to Hot Springs . . . then finally decided to try S.S.S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S.S.S. is the best." Earl C. Campbell, 115 West Main Street, Johnson City, Tenn.

S.S.S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause. S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

RAWLINS THE BOW AND Arrow Maker Gets Peeved!

Of course, you all know by now how this Rawlins coming to the strange town of Andulusia had turned all sorts of attention his way by the PRICES he made on Bows and Arrows. You read how his aim was to get ALL the Bow and Arrow business away from the Old Boys who had been making bows and arrows for years and then after this was accomplished and the old boys were out of the way, RAISE HIS PRICES back to standard.

And you also read how Rawlins discussed all this with a local gossip who TOLD the Old Boys and then you read how the old boys got busy and snatched on Rawlins right out loud in the newspaper and how the public when they saw what was going on gave one large laugh and bought their bows and arrows from the Old Boys who LIVED IN ANDULUSIA. Now we are up to date and ready to go further.

Rawlins seeing how his trade was slipping and being a good business man doubled and trebled his ADVERTISING!

He used extra horn blowers, extra town criers and large sheets of skin all covered with PRICES on his bows and arrows. And these PRICES sure were LOW.

But the Old Boys were united now and were also able to cut THEIR prices sometimes even lower than Rawlins. They too advertised loudly and with violence for they figured that if they were to stay in business, they had to do as good if not BETTER than Rawlins.

And that's the way things stood in the Fall of the year 1447 A. D.

SPECIAL GRAND JURY SESSION WILL CONSIDER SEVEN CASES

PILOT IS CHAMP FIRE FINDER

C. A. BURROWS

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to Gazette

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Nov. 17.—All sorts of champions bob up, but C. A. Burrows, former army pilot and now flyer for Uncle Sam's forest patrol, claims a new one.

In fair weather and foul, Burrows takes to the air over southern California's four national forests. Sometimes over the Angeles, again over the Cleveland, now around the San Bernardino and then over the Santa Barbara he flies, ever in search of forest fires.

When he sights smoke, he circles the spot several times. He makes a note of its probable duration, its direction and intensity. Then he flies to the nearest group of fire fighters to warn them of the new flames.

Service is Valuable

There is nothing particularly mysterious about forest fires. Forests have been subject to fires for many years. The effect of these fires is recorded in the forests themselves and the record is impartial and unchangeable.

The full effect of a forest fire cannot be easily appreciated for fire injury is cumulative and to understand the consequences of today's fires one must know how often the forests have been subjected to fire injury in the past.

But this thing of an airplane skimming tree tops and soaring away in search of fire is relatively new to the forests. And just as effective as it is new, for the observer, flying nearly a mile above the forest, can spot even the smallest blaze a long distance away.

The flying fire fighter keeps southern California's wooded playgrounds safe against conflagration.

VETERAN EDITOR FOR 62 YEARS

JAMES B. STANLEY

GREENVILLE, Ala., Nov. 17.—"Keeping everlastingly at it brings success."

This was the motto adopted by James B. Stanley when he decided to establish a weekly newspaper in Greenville.

That it served him well is evidenced by the fact Stanley has just concluded sixty-two years as editor and publisher of that newspaper, the Greenville Advocate.

His career as editor of one newspaper for so long a period is unusual in the history of American journalism.

"A long time, yes," he muses. "But it seems only a few short years since I glanced over the first issue of the Advocate as it came off the press in October of 1865."

Served in Rebellion

Greenville has not a single business house that existed when Stanley founded the Advocate.

Returning home from the Confederate army after the war, the now veteran editor found Greenville was to be left without a printing plant by the removal of the newspaper formerly published here.

He had gained a little experience in a printing office before the war and decided to start a newspaper of his own.

FIRE IN TUNNEL

Rupture Shield Expert Here

E. J. Meinhardt, of Chicago, the well-known expert will personally be at the Miami Hotel, Dayton, Ohio, on Wednesday, November 23rd, from 9:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m., and on Thursday, November 24th, from 9:00 a. m. to 12:00 Noon only.

Mr. Meinhardt says: "The Meinhardt Vacuum Shield" will not only retain the Rupture perfectly, but contracts the opening in 10 days on the average, usually giving instantaneous relief withstanding all strain regardless of the size or location of the Rupture.

CAUTION—Do not expose yourself to the danger of wearing old-style trusses with under-strap. These trusses usually place the pad on the lump and not on the rupture opening. This often causes strangulation which usually necessitates an immediate surgical operation or results in sudden death.

The Meinhardt Vacuum Shield has no understraps. It is also perfectly sanitary and practically indestructible and can be worn while bathing.

Only gentlemen are invited to call at this time as special arrangements will be announced later for women and children.

NOTICE: Please do not write asking to be fitted by mail as this is impossible. I send out no literature as every one who comes personally; therefore, I visit this section every year—giving demonstration without charge, or will be pleased to fit you if desired. All cases that I have fitted here during the past five years will please call for inspection. Please note the above dates and hours carefully and always insist on seeing me personally. # HOME MEDICAL STAFF APPROVES HOSPITAL

NS FOR $100,000 BUILDING OFFERED STATE ARCHITECT

ing Staff Elects Present Officers— Banquets Here

entative plans for a new hospital for the Ohio Soldiers' Sailors' Orphans' Home, which $100,000 has been appropriated by the state legislature, were unanimously approved by the Medical and Surgical staff at the annual banquet at the institution, Wednesday.

Plans for the new hospital were presented by Robert S. W. Columbus, state architect, and were discussed by the acting staff. With the exception of a few minor changes, all of which will alter the general arrangements, the plans were approved. Approval by the board of trustees will be given at its next meeting.

In addition to the $100,000 appropriation, the legislature has appropriated $10,000 for hospital equipment. The new hospital is to be a ninety-bed institution.

All medical cases in the hospital will be handled in the new building which will have a major operating room and x-ray facilities for minor operations and dental room with two chairs and equipment. There will be large wards, with twenty beds each, and facilities to take care of ten more beds.

The hospital will be of brick and concrete construction, and the building will be a modern kitchen, dining room, and living room. The plan conceives the idea of a hospital which will be converted into a sanatorium.

The hospital will be on one floor, with two wings. Building operations will begin in a year and the hospital is expected to be ready for use in two years.

In presenting the plans, Mr. W. invited suggestions and discussion from the medical and dental staff. The matter met spirited discussion ending in unanimous approval, after certain alterations were suggested.

Approval of the hospital plans advanced the dream of Dr. Myler, resident physician at the Home, who has cherished the idea of such a new institution. A committee was appointed to investigate the suggestions and report on the present hospital unit consisting of five frame buildings. These are to be converted into nurses' quarters and isolation wards, and an auxiliary.

The hospital was built in 1890 at a cost of $40,000 at that time was referred to as a model hospital of that type. The architect who designed the building later wrote a book on architecture and described the local hospital as an example of architecture for that purpose.

The new hospital will occupy a site near the present hospital buildings.

The medical and surgical staff at the hospital before the banquet. This was the twenty-second annual meeting of the staff, with fifteen members present, besides their wives and invited guests. Covers were laid for forty.

Dr. J. E. Griewe, Cincinnati dietician, dean of the medical staff, aided at the business meeting, after the discussion of the hospital plans. Dr. Andrew Timberman, Columbus eye specialist, described a case that recently came to attention, of cataracts on both eyes, which he removed with success.

Dr. J. E. Griewe, Cincinnati dietician, Dr. Hochmeyer, Cincinnati, dean of the medical college and superintendent of the Cincinnati General Hospital; Dr. R. R. McClellan, Dr. H. C. Messenger, Dr. Schuyler N. McClellan, radio-apher, were elected to membership on the staff. They were nominated to membership at the previous meeting.

On account of the hospital building program it was decided by the staff to retain its present officers. They are: Dr. J. E. Griewe, Cincinnati, dean and Dr. A. C. Messenger, Xenia, secretary.

Dr. Myler, resident physician and Dr. H. M. Dersham, resident dentist, submitted their annual reports, after which the shoes worn by the children at the institution were exhibited to the staff. The patterns are along the same lines as the Antioch College shoe pattern, and insure proper foot growth. The shoes are manufactured at the home.

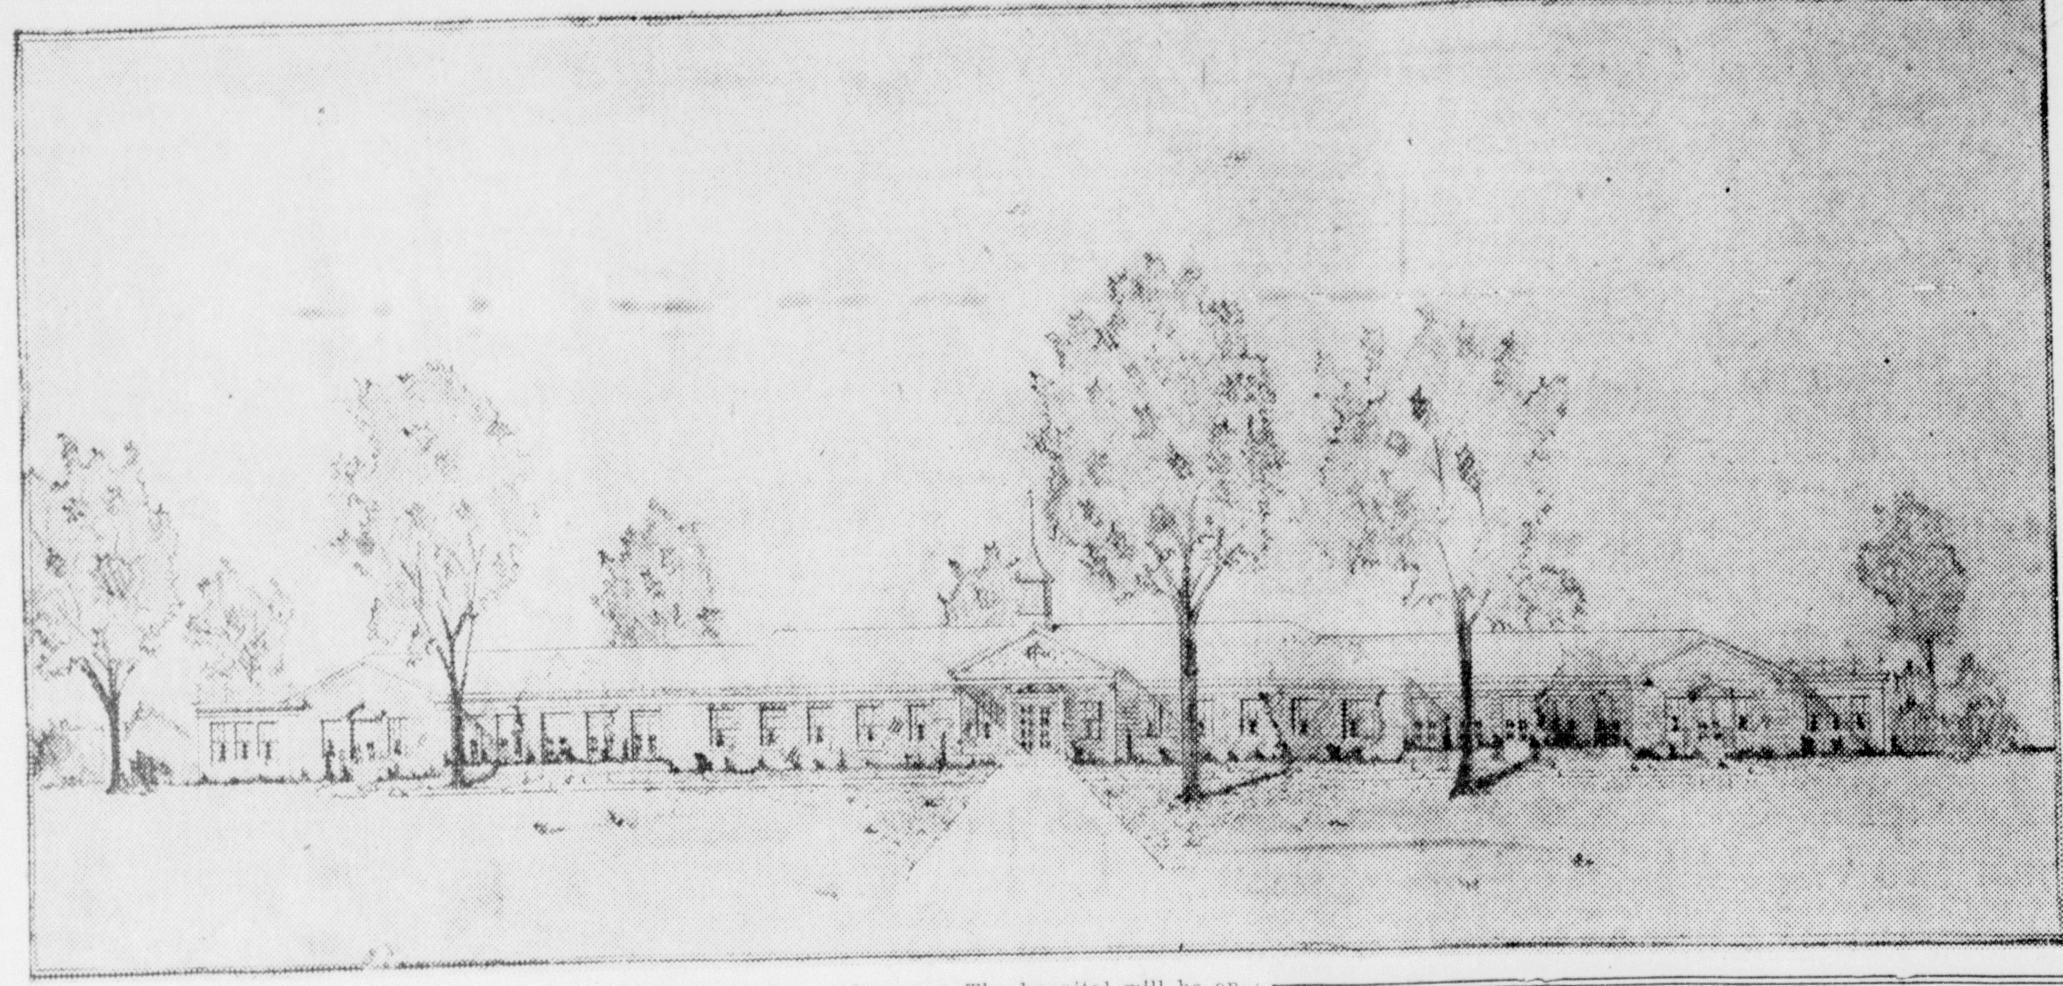

At the close of the staff meeting, the banquet was served at 1 o'clock. Four long tables were attractively laid, centered with hollyhocks and southern smilax. The menu consisted of: fruit cocktail, turkey, mashed potatoes, scalloped oysters, dressing, head lettuce with thousand island dressing, hot biscuits, butter, preserves, ice cream, and coffee.

T. E. Andrews, superintendent of the home, gave the address of welcome to the staff and guests. The home was pronounced to be in the best condition in its history. Two members of the visiting staff, and Mr. Andrews expressed his pleasure in the plans for the new hospital and other work being done for the institution.

The introduction of Dean Griewe, who recently told of his visit in Europe last summer on research work. Music was furnished during the banquet by the Home Orchestra.

Covers were laid at the banquet for: Charles D. Wright, D. D. S., Hillsboro; Mrs. George E. McCullough, Troy; Dr. Reed Madden, Xenia; Dr. J. C. Larkin, Hillsboro; Dr. H. C. Messenger, Xenia; Dr. E. C. West, Dayton; Dr. W. F. Landerbeck, Dayton; Miss Alice Foley, Xenia Gazette; Dr. A. C. Messenger, Xenia; S. N. McClellan, Xenia; Dr. G. E. McCullough, Troy; Mrs. H. C. Messenger, Xenia; Dr. D. C. ## The Theater

What started out as a little skit for the Lambs' Club Gambol has developed into a Broadway success. Elliott Nugent is one of the authors, with John Wray and Elaine Sterne Carrington of "Nightstick" which is packing them in at the Selwyn.

The skit was developed into a standard sketch for vaudeville. More and more authors lent a hand and it grew into a full-length comedy-drama called "One of the Boys." The title was changed to "Nightstick" and now it is in for a run at the Selwyn. The show is said to have plenty of suspense, surprise and unusually good comedy.

"Coquette" began November 8, at the Maxine Elliott Theater. It is a tragedy by George Abbott and Ann Preston Bridges and the theater critic for "The Billboard" declares it "the finest play and the finest acting in years." It stars Helen Hayes.

Doctor Found What is Best for Thin, Constipated People

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half of his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

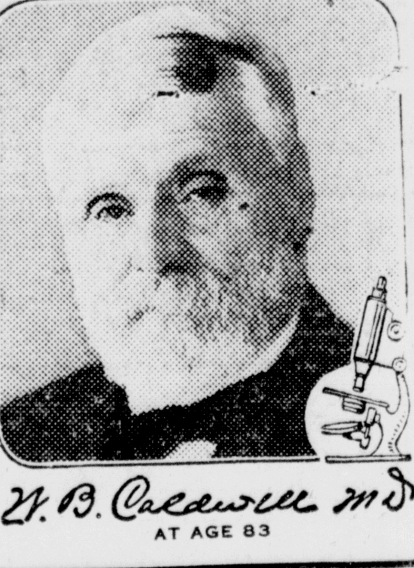

In the course of his 47 years' practice (he was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1875), he found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with pepsin. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year his prescription was first placed on the market.

The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in his private practice. Now, the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it. Millions of bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are being used a year.

Its great success is based on merit, on repeated buying, on one satisfied user telling another. There are thousands of homes in this country that are never without a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and we have gotten many hundreds of letters from grateful people telling us that it helped them when everything else failed.

Every drug store sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Keep a bottle in your home,—where many live someone is sure to need it quickly.

We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.—Adv.

JUDGE OFFERS NEW MARRIAGE PLAN

Judge Charles Burnell

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch To The Gazette

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 17.—After passing upon 6,000 domestic cases, Judge Charles Burnell, of Los Angeles, advocates "limited marriage contracts with option of renewal," as a solution to the divorce problem which now exists.

He scores present day divorcees, contending they foster perjury and are mere farces, since both parties are usually eager for separation, only contesting the suit because of property rights or children.

"I tell you," Judge Burnell reasons, "I have come to the conclusion this is all just a matter of human nature, and that whatever is now, will continue to be under any legal system we may devise. I've done a lot of thinking about this question since I came on the bench."

Not Romance Insurance
"As I see it, marriage for a term of five years or ten years or any other period is not the answer. Matrimony, as it is from the legal standpoint, seems to me to have been designed as a contract out of which might arise certainty as to parentage of children and property ownership and descent."

"Well, it provides that certainty, within reasonable limits of accuracy. But I don't believe that, legally, it ever was developed to constitute an insurance of life-long romance. Those who look for that from it probably are placing too much strain upon the institution, and I surmise that this expectation is one of the underlying reasons for the increasing prevalence of divorce."

"It is my conviction that men and women must take their choice between the legal advantages accruing from matrimony and the pursuit of romance, and that they can't have both."

"I do not think a five-year marriage will alter this situation and we are forced in the end to rely upon what I believe scientists now accept as a fact, that humankind, like some other species, naturally tends to a fixed marriage relation, that promiscuity is a fable, that certain individuals will vary more or less than from the normal, and let it go at that."

GOLDEN RULE PRESERVES PEACE

MARSHAL FLOYD BLUM AND POLICE CHIEF A. F. ANDERSON, OF ESCONDIDO, CAL.

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch To The Gazette

ESCONDIDO, Cal., Nov. 17.—No murders, no juvenile court, no jail "blotter" for residents.

That, if you please, is Escondido. But it is largely the story of A. F. Anderson, this town's altitudinous chief of police, and Fred Blum, abbreviated deputy sheriff and city marshal.

The sun seldom sets on vagrants here. Drifters are unwelcome and told so. And go they move on with the coming of night, and Escondido sleeps on in a safety known to few communities.

Has No Juvenile Court
Residents say Escondido is the most peaceful town they have known.

The juvenile court disappeared when Anderson came into office four years ago.

"I felt that the prominent men about town should take the time to talk to boys," he explains. "Men show them their errors and help them do the right thing."

"A boy put on his honor by a man who is honorable will help more than any reformatory."

Anderson, who is more than six feet tall, and Blum, the "shorty" of the pair, run Escondido. And run it they do. Even the gypsies pass right through for greener pastures.

Golden Rule Prevails
Sited in the foothills, forty miles from the Pacific, Escondido is a main port of call between Los Angeles and San Diego. Many visitors pass her doors, yet few tarry long enough to receive an official welcome. Those who would catch the police chief's eye seem to sense the attitude of the community and move on.

So it is a town of honor. The men live by the Golden Rule and teach the younger generation to abide by its tenets. And they live happily and prosperously among themselves.

FIREMEN ANSWER THREE ALARMS IN THIRTEEN HOURS

Despite the continuous rainfall of the last twenty-four hours, firemen answered three alarms within thirteen hours between 6 p. m. Wednesday and 7 a. m. Thursday.

Fire, suspected by Fire Chief William Hanifan of being of incendiary origin, damaged four or five bales of broom straw in a box car on a siding of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad on W. Second St., at 6:20 p. m. Wednesday. The straw was the property of the Hunt broom factory, Dayton Ave. The blaze may have been caused by sparks from a passing locomotive. Fire in the straw bales was again discovered one hour and forty minutes later the same evening, but was extinguished with less difficulty than before. The damage was not great.

Damage not to exceed $20 was caused when a truck owned by The Eavey Co., wholesale grocers, caught on fire at the Schmidt Oil Co. filling station, S. Detroit St., Thursday morning at 7:10 o'clock. The blaze was discovered beneath the gasoline tank and was attributed to a short circuit.

"I Am Very Glad With The Order"

In far away Sao Paulo there are tiny shops where one may purchase carved fans of sandalwood and filmy lengths of real lace, but Senor Silva wanted a vacuum bottle and a leather belt, and he wanted them to be of excellent quality and at a price his modest salary could afford.

So he wrote us a long letter in Portuguese explaining his wishes, and in due time the Bottle and the Belt departed for South America. Apparently, Senor Silva was pleased with them, because the other day we received this letter:

"I am very glad with the order. Thank you."

You may smile, perhaps at the phraseology, but to us it represents an ideal of service.

Every night when the last parcel has left our counters, we wonder if deep down in the heart of every customer we have served that day is the thought, "I am very glad with the order. Thank you."

We hope so. This is the success we hope to achieve.

You would be astonished to know how many owners of two or more cars leave their larger cars at home, to drive the Essex; for they sacrifice no comfort or performance their larger cars can give, and they enjoy definite advantages in driving ease and handling. And these same advantages appeal to every owner, no matter what his previous car experience. Essex ownership is a progressive discovery of satisfactions and enjoyments that grow with possession and of which performance is but an item.

Essex is engineered and balanced to a riding ease that seems to erase the ruts and ripples of the road, and operation ease is so simple and effortless that the lightest gesture controls it.

The Essex Super-Six high-compression motor converts waste heat to power, developing more than 2½ times the power its size ordinarily rates it. In performance brilliancy it achieves a new high mark even for Essex. Its sustained stamina, smoothness and durability you see but one of many advantages for which the Super-Six principle accounts.

Here you have 50 miles an hour all day long—far greater speed if you want it—flying smoothness in action—dynamic appeals that win you in a ride. This amazing Super-Six performance and quality are economical to buy and engineered to lowest operation and maintenance cost.

HE DID HIS BIT

"Were you ever in the army, Joe?" one war vet facetiously inquired of a hungry looking colored gentleman who was loafing nearby. "Yes, sub, cap'n I shuah was. I was in the army for two weeks." He fished in an overalls pocket and drew out a card. "This heah card will prove it," he finished proudly. The "cap'n" took one glance and gasped. The card read: "Honorable discharged because of mental deficiency."

JUDGE CONSIDERS CONTEMPT OF COURT

ATTORNEYS TO HEAR
EVIDENCE ON WHICH
MIS-TRIAL ORDERED

Will Decide Whether
Charges To Follow In
Sinclair Case

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The kaleidoscopic spotlight that has kept the alleged legal aggressions of Harry F. Sinclair and Albert B. Fall under a pitiless glare of publicity for the past three years today shifted to still another angle.

With the oil conspiracy trial postponed for the present, and the jury tampering probe of the district attorney's office at a standstill, interest today centered around the steps taken by District Supreme Court Justice Siddons to determine whether anyone should be adjudged in contempt of court as a result of the Fall-Sinclair mis-trial.

Siddons appointed a committee of three local members of the bar to investigate the sworn charges that things occurred during the course of the trial of the oil king and the former cabinet officer which made a premature ending thereof mandatory. The committee was ordered to sit "forthwith."

Procedure was today being considered by the three members—Major Peyton Gordon, U. S. attorney; John E. Lasky, former U. S. attorney; and James S. Easby-Smith. It will be their duty to study the four affidavits, and to hear testimony thereon, that caused the mis-trial. Two were sworn to by Donald King, reporter for the Washington Herald, and J. Ray Akers, street car conductor. These charged Juror Edward Kidwell with public talking in violation of his juror's oath—he had said, according to the affidavits, he expected "an auto a block long" out of Sinclair's acquittal.

The remaining two were submitted by Assistant U. S. Attorneys Burkshaw and Shea. More serious in nature, they alleged that Sinclair had hired the Burns detective agency to illegally influence the Teapot Dome jury.

BRITAIN AWAITING REACTION ON U. S.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—Now that great Britain has voluntarily curtailed 1927 naval construction by deciding to lay down the keel of only one cruiser this year instead of the three provided for in the naval program, government officials are waiting to see what the reaction will be in the United States and Japan.

Comment was aroused today by the disarmament debate in the House of Commons, especially by the statement by Viscount Cecil that the recent naval limitation conference at Geneva had been wrecked by the meddling tactics of Chancellor of the Exchequer Winston Churchill and the vacillating policy of the government.

Earl Balfour, who headed the British delegation to the Washington conference, attempted to throw oil upon the troubled waters by saying he believed that the collapse of the Geneva parley might be regarded as only an interruption and that "the temporary differences" between America and Britain would be reconciled.

BOOZE RUNNERS ARE CAUGHT AT TOLEDO

TOLEDO, Ohio, Nov. 17.—Three men, alleged to have been in charge of a moving van containing beer and whisky valued at about $10,000 which was seized late Wednesday, are to be arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Frederick W. Gaines here today.

The prisoners gave their names as E. P. Marshall, 28, Detroit; Roy Agell, 28, Cleveland, and Joe Vignon, 28, Louisville. They contended that their bosses were riding in a conveyance automobile and escaped when the officers approached. It is believed the cargo was brought from Detroit, though the van bears an Indiana license plate.

POULTRY FARM IS DAMAGED BY FIRE

BATAVIA, O., Nov. 17.—Fire which started in an overheated furnace destroyed a number of buildings on the E. C. Amstutz poultry farm, three miles west of here, today. The loss is estimated at about $15,000.

E. C. Amstutz, owner of the farm, and an official of the Ohio State Farm Bureau, had recently constructed a number of modern poultry and incubator buildings on the farm. The loss was partly covered by insurance.

NON-STOP FLYERS MISSING

Will Ask Aid For War Veterans

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Nine years after the Armistice, the American Legion and other veterans' organization will launch a new drive in the coming session of congress to obtain relief for 2,000 disabled emergency World War officers.

The legion, the disabled veterans of the World War, the veterans of foreign wars, the military order of the World War and score of divisional and regimental associations will join forces in seeking the relief. The necessary legislation will be re-introduced by Senator L. D. Tyson, (D) of Tennessee, who served as a brigadier general overseas. The bill provides for the retirement of emergency army, navy and marine officers, who were seriously disabled during the World War, on the same conditions existing for other classes of officers. The bill fitted had the law been enacted, due to a senate filibuster and the refusal of the senate to invoke cloture to insure its enactment. About 2,000 volunteer National Guard and drafted officers will be affected by the legislation. Hundreds more would have been benefited had the law been enacted shortly after the Armistice, as the ranks of the emergency officers have been thinned each year by premature deaths. The measure twice has passed the senate in previous years only to die because it failed of enactment in the house.

BROTHER OF MURDER VICTIM SAYS REMUS FEARED TESTIMONY

Bootlegger King Shot To Prevent Wife Telling Story

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 17.—George Remus, former millionaire "king of the bootleggers," killed his wife, Imogene, not because of her friendship for Franklin L. Dodge, Jr., the dry agent, but because he feared the testimony she planned to give in the divorce court, the slain woman's brother, Harry F. Brown, said today.

Mrs. Remus was on her way in a taxi to the divorce court to testify on the morning of October sixth last when Remus followed her in his limousine and shot her when he jockeyed her cab to a curb in Eden Park.

"In my sister's effects are documents, letters and other evidence that will prove Remus killed her because of the testimony she intended to give that day," declared Brown.

"This evidence is at the disposal of the prosecution if it wishes to use it. Remus knew that my sister's testimony would cause him no end of difficulties because of his many unlawful and crooked deals."

Brown asserted that neither he nor any of Mrs. Remus' relatives are concealing documents or property belonging to Remus, as charged. He appeared at the court house prepared to back up this statement, having been subpoenaed by Remus who seeks to recover records and papers which Remus claims Brown, Dodge and others have carried away and hidden.

Dodge is in seclusion in a Cincinnati hotel, as is Ruth Holmes Remus and other important witnesses.

THIRTY INDICTED PEOPLE ARRAIGNED

DAYTON, O., Nov. 17.—Thirty persons indicted by the federal grand jury are to be given preliminary hearings today before Judge Smith Hickenlooper, of Cincinnati, who is here for that purpose.

The charges range from using the mails to defraud to violations of the prohibition and narcotic laws. Two other cases are to come up Nov. 21, involving Sheriff Bert Wagner, of Darke County, and Sheriff Leo H. Davidson of Preble County. Both face contempt charges. They are alleged to have permitted federal prisoners, over whom they had custody, to play golf, ride in automobiles and have other liberties which federal prisoners are not supposed to enjoy.

FALLING ELEVATOR PERILS LITIGANTS

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 17.—Tragedy nearly ended the suit of Jack Kearns against Jack Dempsey, which was resumed today when safety devices on an elevator in the Chamber of Commerce building worked just in time to prevent Dempsey and Tex Rickard being crushed to probable death.

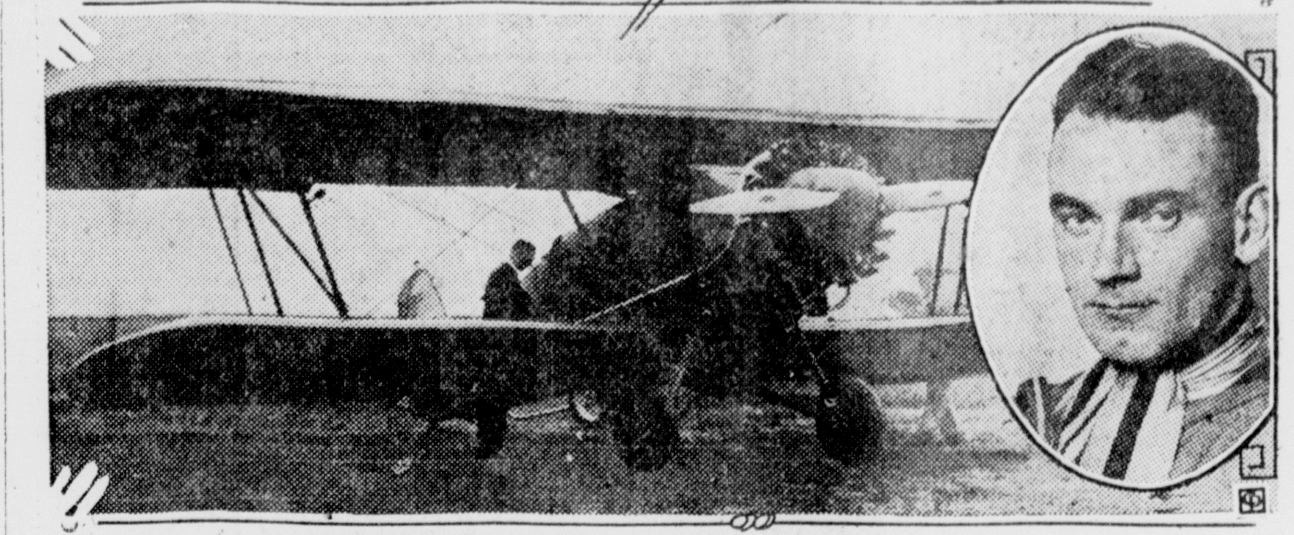

The former champion and promoter boarded the car at the ninth floor late yesterday and it slipped down past seven floors like a shot before safety catches gripped and the speed slackened. The car struck the bottom with a bump.

Dempsey and Rickard emerged white-faced and declared it looked as though the car was certain to crash.

WOUNDED BANDIT DIES IN HOSPITAL

AWAITING WEATHER FOR SOLO FLIGHT OVER PACIFIC

Favorable weather is the only requirement asked by Captain Frederick A. Giles, British ace, for his planned solo flight from San Francisco to New Zealand, by way of Hawaii, Samoa, and Australia. This photo shows Giles' plane, the Hess Bluebird, Wanda, at Mills Field, San Francisco. Inset is of Giles.

CAPTAIN GILES PREPARES FOR DANGEROUS PACIFIC FLIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—Tested and ready for its dangerous flight over the Pacific, the Wanda, Captain Frederick A. Giles Bluebird biplane will be taken to the runway at Mills Field early today. If weather conditions are favorable and if the field, softened by recent rains, is suitable for a takeoff, the British airman announced that he expected to have his machine in the air shortly after 9:30 this morning.

The terminal of his flight, if successful, is New Zealand, the first leg of the journey is Hawaii. Four planes have negotiated this difficult

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MURDERED MAN HALTED BY DISPUTE

First Wife Claims Body
At Rites—Slayer
Still Free

HIGHLANDS, N. J., Nov. 17.—The body of Herbert Meisterknecht inventor and former naval officer who was murdered in his workshop here Monday, is not yet to know the peace of burial.

His remains, taken abruptly from the funeral services yesterday, were placed in a vault today until the two widows who loved him can settle their differences.

The funeral services being conducted yesterday by Mrs. Sophie Meisterknecht, of Yorkers, his second wife, were halted when his first wife, who now claims never to have been divorced, appeared with legal documents ordering the body placed in her custody.

The officiating pastor paused in the midst of his burial services, while friends of the second wife gazed, as the body was removed from the parlor of the Meisterknecht Highlands home.

The first wife, Mrs. Susan Meisterknecht, accompanied by her 15-year-old son, the "only legal widow" and it was on this basis that she secured court orders stopping the funeral.

Meanwhile police continued their search for Alexander Schreiber of Cleveland, brother of Meisterknecht's second wife, who is sought on a murder warrant. Police charge Schreiber killed the inventor because of the latter's second marriage.

BEATS ONE-EYED CONNALLY

SALEM, Mass., Nov. 17.—John Corrigan, local garage foreman is going to see the Army-Navy football game at the polo grounds. How he got the tickets is an epic in the annals of gate crashing.

Corrigan was in the army during the World War. When he found that tickets to the game were almost impossible to obtain, he wrote to senators and representative galore. But no luck came of this campaign.

Finally Corrigan saw in the newspapers that President and Mr. Coolidge would be unable to attend. He sent a note to Representative Andrew and remarked that if the president was not using his tickets he might send them to Salem. He got the tickets.

Henry Waver, an artist in whose apartment the girl was found dying, said today, according to police, that he had met Miss Rittberg, once on an Atlantic liner last spring and had informed her several days ago that he was in no position to consider marriage.

The dead girl was of distinguished American and German parentage, it was revealed today by her mother, with whom she lived in an apartment here.

"PRINCESS XENIA" OVERDUE AND STILL MISSING IS REPORT

English Aviators Would Have Used Up Gas
By 11:30 a. m.

UPAVON AIR DROME, WILTSHIRE, Eng., Nov. 17.—Anxiety over the fate of aviators Robert McIntosh and Bert Hinkler was felt here this afternoon. Up to 1:30 o'clock nothing had been heard of the airmen since they hopped off Tuesday to attempt a non-stop flight to India in the British plane "Princess Xenia."

A dispatch from Delhi, India, said that Royal Air Force headquarters in that city had received no news of the "Princess Xenia."

The supply of gasoline should have lasted until 11:30 a. m. today, but it was estimated that, if the aviators had been able to maintain their schedule, they should have reached Karachi at 8 a. m. Anxiety has been increased by the fact that the airmen followed an unexplored route via Warsaw, Odessa, Afghanistan and the Himalayas.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—Word was still lacking in all official sources today as to the whereabouts or fate of the plane "Princess Xenia" carrying Captain Robert McIntosh and Bert Hinkler which took off from Upton Tuesday in an attempt to break the non-stop flight to India.

Captain McIntosh and Hinkler hoped to break the non-stop flight record established by Clarence Chamberlain. When they took off they were warned of adverse weather conditions.

CENTENARIAN DIES

WILLOWS, Cal., Nov. 17.—Personal friend of Abraham Lincoln, General Grant and General Lee, Mrs. Jones Hamilton, 104 years old, was dead here today.

CORONER PROBES MYSTERY IN UNUSUAL DEATH OF CHILDREN

CLEVELAND, Nov. 17.—Coroner A. P. Hammond today was investigating circumstances surrounding the death of two children here, and the serious illness of another, all of the same family. George and Frank Machnicki, aged 4 and 6 years, respectively, died within a few hours of each other at their home yesterday, and while police and city chemists were investigating the possibility of poison being responsible, Harry Machnicki, one-year-old, became seriously ill and was removed to a hospital.

Mrs. Bartholomew Machnicki, mother of the children, told police George had been ill Tuesday night and she gave him a dose of patent medicine Wednesday morning. Frank also complained and she gave him some stomach drops.

Attending physicians said the baby was suffering from a form of intestinal inflammation and that evidence indicated the other boys had died from the same cause.

Together Again

RADIO COMMISSION WILL MODIFY ORDER ON COMMERCIAL BAN

Demand For Freer Development Causes
Change In Plans

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The Federal Radio Commission's flat ban on licensing of commercial radio stations for communication between points where wire facilities are available will be modified as a result of widespread demand for unhampered development of this wireless field, it was learned today.

Admiral W. H. G. Bullard, chairman, who is in direct charge of the question of commercial licenses for point-to-point, public service and private stations, after discussion of the situation with a number of applicants, agreed to bring the question before the commission today.

It was admitted, unless the original policy is modified in exceptional cases, grounds would be given for the charge of monopoly in the ether highways for a few corporations or industries. The commission, it was stated, is anxious to avoid any criticism of this character and, therefore, within reasonable limitations, may grant a number of commercial licenses.

Wide use of radio by the business and industrial world was disclosed in records of the commerce department showing that approximately 400 commercial land stations were in operation November 1, ranging in wave length from 14.8 to 13.75 meters. Many other applications for public service, limited commercial and point-to-point licenses are pending. A number of newspaper organizations are vitally interested in this field, believing the use of radio is essential to proper service of their clients.

BUMPER CROPS DRAW BLAME FROM GRANGE FOR FARMERS' ILLS

Large Crops Cutting
Prices Kansas
Officials Say

CLEVELAND, Nov. 17.—Bumper crops were being blamed by many state masters for the present ills of the farmer, throughout the country, as they continued reporting to the National Grange here today in the sixty-first annual convention.

For example, Kansas is disappointed again with a bumper crop of corn, Caldwell Davis, Kansas state master, stated in his report yesterday. Whereas farmers expected in September to receive $1 a bushel for a medium crop, they are accepting fifty cents for each of their 175,000,000 bushels, Davis said.

R. W. Smith, of Iowa, reported that "many an Iowa farm can be bought today for barely the cost of its improvements."

Following completion of state masters' reports, the grange then was to take up the introduction of resolutions without debate.

According to information received from Washington by the Grange Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, was to arrive here today to address the national convention. Senator W. E. McNary, of Oregon, co-author of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill, also was expected to speak late today or Friday.

ROY ARCHER VICTIM OF AUTO WEDNESDAY ON S. DETROIT ST.

Walter Grooms, Driver Of Auto, Will Be
Quizzed By Police

Roy Vernon Archer, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Archer, S. Columbus St., died in Espey Hospital Wednesday night at 9:30 o'clock, from a fractured skull, sustained when he was struck by an auto, owned and driven by Walter Grooms, 21, Cottage Grove Ave., four hours earlier.

Archer received a fracture at the base of the skull and did not regain consciousness. The accident happened on S. Detroit St., when Archer was crossing the street, in front of the Xenia Supply Co., where he is employed, to enter an auto driven by his brother, Howard Archer.

Grooms was driving south on Detroit and later told police that he did not see Archer and did not know he struck anyone at the time. Archer was picked up by his brother and rushed to the hospital where his condition was pronounced serious.

Jesse Dorton, sub-patrolman, who has been employed at the Xenia Supply Co., with Archer, obtained Grooms' license number and later accompanied him to police headquarters. Grooms was questioned and released Wednesday night but was scheduled to appear Thursday afternoon, for further examination. He is employed as truck driver for Thomas Cummings.

Coroner F. M. Chambliss viewed Archer's body Thursday morning and pronounced death due to a fractured skull. He was to question Grooms Thursday and will hold an inquest if an eye witness to the accident can be located. He will attempt to learn if Grooms was driving at a high rate of speed and without lights as reported.

Archer was born near Bowersville, October 28, 1906 and had been employed at the Xenia Supply Co., since last spring.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Archer, and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. John Kiser, Jamestown; Homer Archer, Highland, O.; the Misses Goldie and Myrtle Archer and Howard Archer, at home and Mrs. Ruth Turner, Xenia.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the home with burial in Jamestown Cemetery.

GRANGE ELECTS MEMBER OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE AT MEET

Considers More Resolutions At Cleveland Session—
Present Tariff Is Scored By Congressman Davey

CLEVELAND, Nov. 17.—While the national grange state masters continued reporting today, at the 61st annual convention, the Ohio grange, in regular session was to hear reports of committees on education, highways, resolutions and taxation. With that business completed, Paul McVeth, of Burton, O., was to be installed as a member of the executive committee. McNish was elected yesterday to succeed E. S. Tussing, of Canal Winchester.

Additional resolutions were then to be introduced for immediate action. The state organization already has passed a resolution demanding more careful use of the state's nearly vanished woodlands. A recommendation to County Fair Boards suggesting less money and more as premiums for agricultural products, also was drafted.

The present tariff system was scored at yesterday's meeting by Congressman Martin L. Davey, who asserted such tariffs must be extended to agricultural products or be abolished as they apply to manufacturers.

C. A. Dwyer, legislative agent of the grange, recommended a reorganization of county government and tax adjustments to fit modern conditions. He also suggested that Ohio arrange with adjoining states for uniform truck licensing and operating rules.

MORE WITNESSES IN PROBE OF ELECTION

TOLEDO, Ohio, Nov. 17.—Deputy sheriffs today were continuing to summon witnesses to appear before the grand jury here in connection with alleged election registration frauds. The grand jury probe is now in its third day.

About fifty witnesses, largely from the seventh ward, have already appeared. C. L. Davis, assistant attorney general, and J. A. Goodnow, Toledo attorney, are in charge of the investigation.

LOVE DISAPPOINTMENT CAUSES SUICIDE

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Informed by her lover that his financial situation would not permit "the thought of marriage," Miss Grace Von Rittberg, 28, believed to be the daughter of a German Countess, ended her own life with poison while her sweetheart paced the floor in an adjoining room, according to information in the hands of police today.

Henry Waver, an artist in whose apartment the girl was found dying, said today, according to police, that he had met Miss Rittberg, once on an Atlantic liner last spring and had informed her several days ago that he was in no position to consider marriage.

The dead girl was of distinguished American and German parentage, it was revealed today by her mother, with whom she lived in an apartment here.

The Countess Von Rittberg, her mother, said that the girl was a niece of John E. Campbell, once governor of Ohio and a granddaughter of Representative Lewis D. Campbell, of Ohio, close friend of Abraham Lincoln.

Her father, Count Bennon Von Rittberg, once chamberlain to the Prince of Lippe, was divorced by her mother eighteen years ago.

Mrs. Bartholomew Machnicki, mother of the children, told police George had been ill Tuesday night and she gave him a dose of patent medicine Wednesday morning. Frank also complained and she gave him some stomach drops.

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 17.—Henry Phillips, 60, farmer, found dead in a garage at his home today, is believed to be a belated victim of the hunting season. After a hunting trip Wednesday, Phillips complained this morning that he felt tired and was later found dead in the garage. Death was attributed to heart failure aggravated by over-exertion.

FEDERAL JURY FINDS FOR RAIL ROAD IN SIMISON DAMAGE CASE

The Pennsylvania Railroad was exonerated of responsibility for a grade crossing crash at the W. Main St. crossing in November, 1926 in which Eleanor Simison, Dayton Ave., was killed instantly, when a jury in United States District Court at Dayton returned a verdict in favor of the defendant late Wednesday afternoon at the conclusion of a two-day trial of the $50,000 damage suit brought by John Simison, as administrator of the estate and father of the deceased, against the railroad.

The jury deliberated about an hour and one-half. No appeal will be filed, according to plaintiff's counsel.

Each side introduced an equal number of witnesses. That the railroad was negligent in failing to properly protect the crossing, was the contention of the plaintiff. The railroad claimed the negligence, if any, was on the part of the driver of the automobile, demolished by a passenger train.

The decedent was an invited guest in the auto, which was driven by Raymond Stiles.

Judge Smith Hickenlooper charged the jury, before it received the case, that if it was found the sole negligence was on the part of the railroad, a verdict should be returned in favor of the plaintiff; but that if the accident was due to the combined negligence of the driver and the railroad, a verdict must be returned for the defendant.

TELEPHONES OUT OF SERVICE AS FIRST HEAVY SNOW COMES

Rapidly lowering temperatures Thursday changed the continuous rainfall of the last twenty-four hours into the first heavy snowfall this fall, seriously disrupting telephone service in the business district of the city.

Officials of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. estimate that 250 telephones were out of order Thursday in the business section of the city over an area of one square block between Detroit and William Sts. and Main and Second Sts.

Scattered trouble was reported in various parts of the city, but not more than twenty-five or thirty phone users in the county, with the exception of Xenia, found their communication cut off.

Repair work was under way early Thursday morning and service is expected to be restored by evening.

NOT SUCH A BAD LOT

Will Durant makes a profound and optimistic observation upon the human race in the course of his mental autobiography "Transition," recently published. He is discussing how his parents sacrificed much in order that he might have a good education. He observes that his father was a wholly illiterate man, yet with such an appreciation of the value of learning that he was willing to do without ordinary comforts of life so as to furnish his children with a better start in life than he had had.

"I have often reflected," says Durant, "on this impulse, which seems to be so deeply rooted in every parent's heart, to give the children a finer rearing than their own. We are not such a bad lot, after all. . . . we utter a regrettable amount of nonsense on our parables through the world, but we can love with a magnificent devotion."

One would have said that Durant was a confirmed pessimist if one had read his philosophical and economic writings only. A man can be a pessimist philosophically and economically. But when this cynical philosopher writes about his own family and his own experiences with men and women, he is forced to become an optimist. The world may be gray with the smoke of wars, and the sun may be hidden by sinister clouds of doom, but beneath the clouds and within the mist there still abides the flame of love, which warms the heart of humanity.

MORE GOLF WIDOWS NOW

The day—or, perhaps we should say, the night—is at hand when 24-hour golf will be possible in this or any other country where there are well-kept links, with rough not too high or tangled. At any rate, several steps have already been taken toward the achievement of that golfbug's millennium.

Not so very long ago, at a popular summer resort in New York state, elaborate arrangements were made for the electric illumination of the golf course adjoining the hotel. A four-course composed of professionals and amateurs played an 18-hole match-somewhere around midnight, which was reported to be quite successful. No records were broken, but it was said that the brand of golf displayed was almost up to the daylight average of the four contestants. That idea, however, extended no further throughout the country, so far as we know.

But now comes another notion—or, let us say, more light upon the situation. Millard J. Bloomer, a golf enthusiast of New York, has invented a luminous golf ball. It is the ordinary white ball, we are told, but it is treated with a chemical (some variant of phosphorus, no doubt) which keeps it "burning bright in the forest of the night."

The Way of the World

THE WAY OF MOTHERS

A very young man with bell-bottomed trousers and oily hair confessed in a certain city police court the other day that he had struck his mother, after quarrelling with her. After the judge had properly sentenced him to jail, the plea of the lad's mother saved him from a cell. There was quite a story about this incident in the newspapers. Strange that there should have been, for there was nothing so unusual about it. A thousand mothers have pleaded for a thousand sons who have wronged them. A thousand mothers will do it again. It is love without hope of reward. Somebody has said that it is the way of life. It is not the way of life but it is the way of mothers.

RIGHT—NOT MIGHT

Lloyd George, former prime minister of England, predicts the most terrible war in the world's history unless the nations make up their minds to seek justice and protection from "established right" and not from force. One by one great minds of the modern day are coming to the conclusion that big armies and big navies can never insure the lasting peace of the world. Armament can never be more than a temporary safeguard. Sometime, somehow, the conviction must take permanent root in the minds of men that right is mightier than might.

PERPETUAL MOTION

"Perpetual motion inventors" have been laughed at through the ages. And yet, over in Switzerland, at Zurich, there is a clock that has never been wound. It ticks merrily on. It is run by a mechanism set in motion every time the temperature changes two degrees. And the temperature changes often. What's the difference between that and perpetual motion?

NO TIDINGS

A New Jersey doctor, pronounced dead from heart disease, comes back to life for a few hours. To surrounding physicians he said: "Why did you bring me back? I was in heaven."

But he brought no tidings of heaven, and now he is really dead. Despite all the efforts of the spiritualists, the psychics, the experimenters, there is no definite, convincing, satisfying word from the realm of the next life. That is not important. Those who study men and women the most and know them best are sure they are not meant to flicker out like the end of a candle. Vision and imagination, qualities of men, are far too great for this life alone. The capacity for development is evident. There must be a place, in all the years to come, for a human being to grow into his own.

WE'LL KNOW THEM

Edison, great scientist, says he is convinced there is a Supreme Intelligence pervading the universe. And he adds: "When we die, we'll know. Why argue about it?" That's a good idea.

Be sure that a Supreme Intelligence will deal with human beings justly. And be sure you won't get any more than justice. Nobody deserves any more.

BRAINS WIN

Some Chicago university co-eds are mourning. They say men want only beauty and care nothing for brains in women. Co-eds who talk that way must have more beauty than brains. They don't know many men. The average man would probably vote for brains first; for housekeeping ability second, and for beauty third. Scenery may become tiresome but ideas are always stimulating.

New Yorker

By
Burton Rascoe

NEW YORK, Nov. 17. — They told a sad story of a Greenwich Village restaurateur who aspired to heights of interior decoration and who had the walls of his place painted green. Somehow or other his patrons were adversely affected by the change in color. Maybe they are too used to the violent splashes of orange and red and cobalt blues and riotous violets which usually adorn by eating places of that section. Anyhow, the aesthetic minded boss had to give up his apple green dream of delight in order to keep people coming for his sole marguerite and his spinach à la reine. It is all very sad. The Village has never been in the mood for pastels in its emotions or otherwise.

Two elevator men in Grand Central Palace are discussing the current "Red Knight of Germany" saga, a serial running in Liberty Magazine. One says glibly, out of the side of his mouth: "Aw, this fellow Floyd Gibbons is an Englishman, anyhow." And I think . . . shades of the sinking of the Lusitania, when this fellow Floyd Gibbons, who came from the legendary city of Chicago, wrote one of the world's best feature stories. The elevator men are old enough to remember, but they do not.

Cornelius F. Calhane (and there's an actual name no ingenious novelist could ever hope to better) is an inspector of police long with the New York department. His is the job of commanding a new division of specially trained men, who will be on duty in the new vehicular tunnel between Manhattan and Jersey City. This organization of men is the first ever organized in the United States for this kind of work. The tunnel police must be privy to many subjects which never come under the average cop's eye. They must understand the character of fire hazards peculiar to tunnels, and must know the means to fight flames originating through spontaneous combustion, or other unusual circumstances. They must be able to provide first aid in the special emergency cases traffic in the tunnel may develop. They must know how to direct traffic in a limited space where any stall is likely to develop a terrible tieup of vehicles, and how to handle an emergency jam of the same. The men training for the service attend lectures daily, and go through a course of drills at the training field which reminds old-timers of the bucking down to business under a stiff army officer of the old school.

Harlem got its biggest thrill in many years out of the funeral of Florence Mills, its idol singer. There's nothing in the world the average negro enjoys more than a good, spectacular burying, and the pomp and circumstance attending the passing of this magnetic dark-skinned music hall star satisfied even the greediest sensation seeker.

NOTES ON SHIPBOARD

The crowd aboard this sturdy British craft looks incredibly dull; but that doesn't prove anything. Have you ever yet been hurled into a big group of strangers that didn't appear intensely uninteresting at first? Average human beings are never very impressive until you get acquainted with them.

Based on previous experience, I know that from day to day as I learn more about these folks, they will gradually become interesting. Few people are ever wholly uninteresting when you really know them. Even if a person never has any original thoughts, then his excessive normalcy may itself be amusing. For several years I subscribed for a certain Washington newspaper just because the stupidity of the cartoons fascinated me.

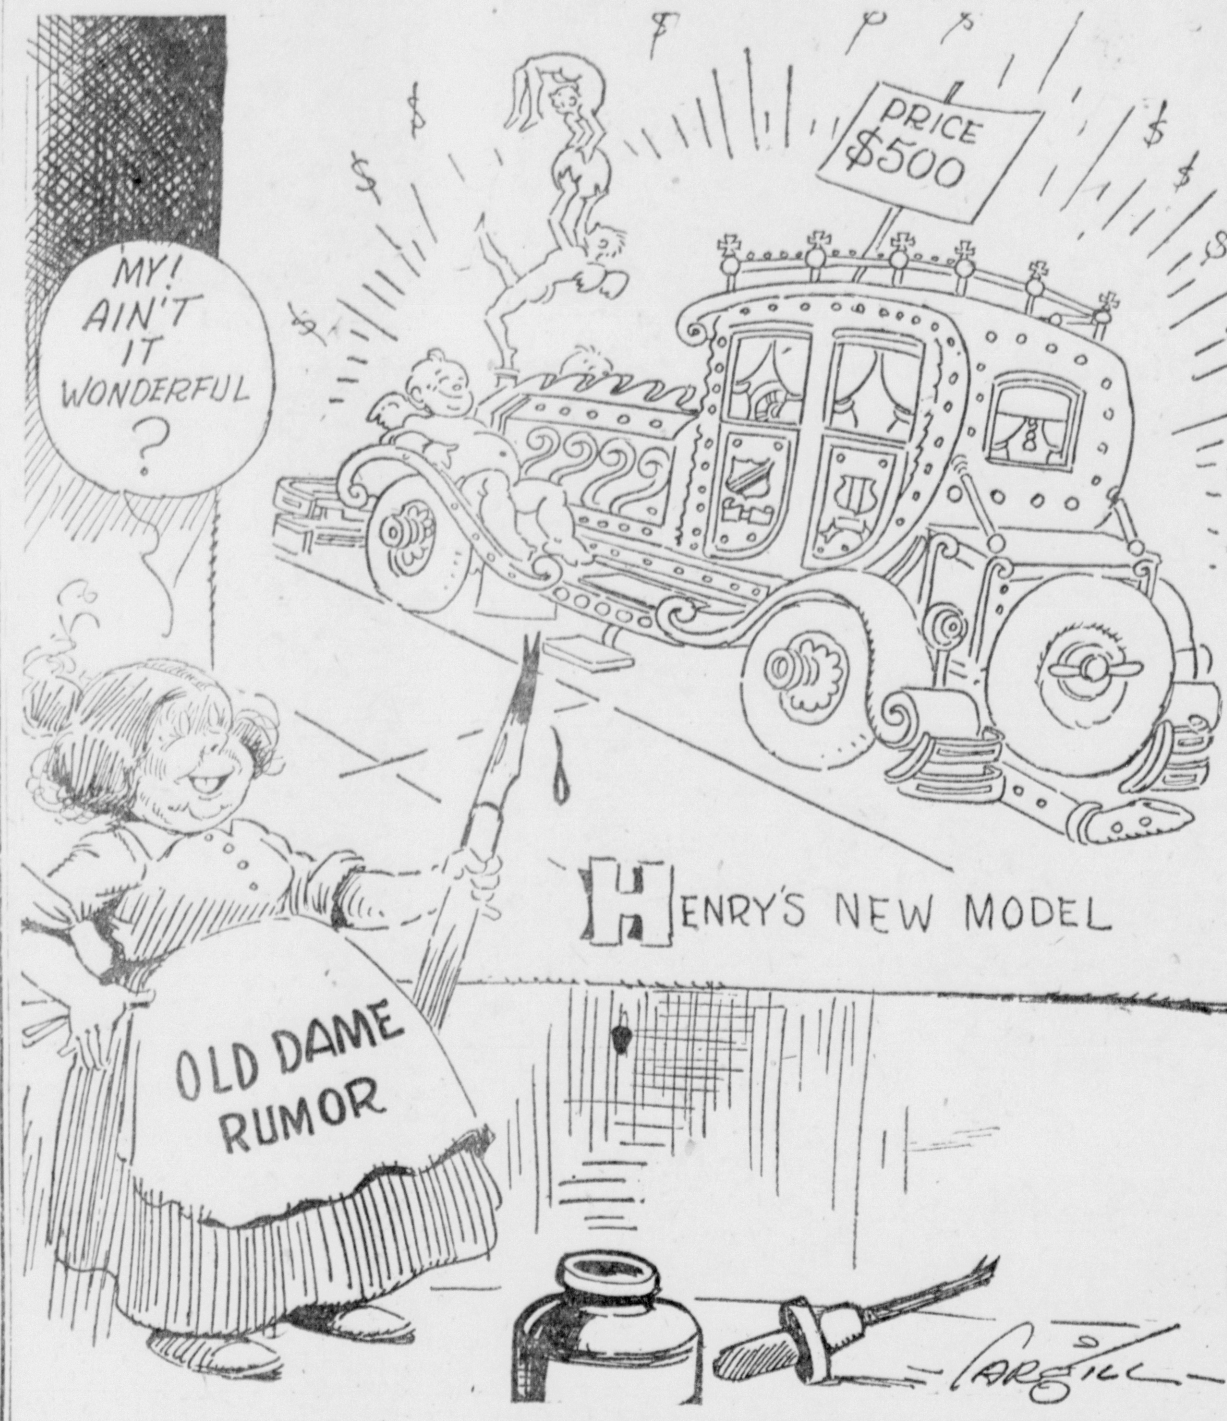

My traveling companion, R. M. Brinkerhoff, who draws illustrations for Uncle George Lorimer's Saturday Evening Post, has a rare knack at making himself at home. He has his suitcases all unpacked and clothes hung up in a closet or carefully put away in drawers down in our stateroom as if he might be all settled down for a year or two.

"It will be much more comfortable and homelike," he says, "after we get things properly fixed up."

I don't know just what he means by getting things fixed up, but he is planning to have our stateroom repapered and then hang up some family portraits. He's an odd character, this Brinkerhoff. A powerful big fellow, his two great interests in life are eating and attending prize fights. Yet his comic pictures in the New York Evening World are always about dainty little children. I don't understand it.

We haven't seen so much as a plank in all this vast expanse of water but the wireless operator just told the purser that 30 big ships are within 100 miles of us. That makes everything seem more comfortable. Even though we can't see these ships with the naked eye, it's nice to know that we're all in one cozy little group. There's no need to feel lonely or isolated now.

WHEN RUMOR GETS THROUGH WITH IT

Peter's Adventures

By Mrs. Florence Smith Vincent.

The Rattler Rattled

"R-r-r-r!" Again that threatening rattle. Faster and faster quivered that strange something just beyond the blackberry cluster. Stonier grew that dreadful stare! "Keep out of my brier patch," hissed a voice, and at the hateful sound suddenly Peter recovered his senses. Using all the will he had, he took his gaze from that glittering eye and jumped to one side—jumped just as far as he could, and only just in time. Swish! Long, glistering, dreadful, something much like the lash of a whip hurled through the air and landed, whirling, on the spot where the boy had stood only a second before. Peter, so frightened that the hair stood up on the top of his head, watched a forked, thread-like tongue darting lightning-like over the ground, feeling for something it could not find.

"Missed you that time!" hissed the hateful voice, "but try again! That's my motto! I'll get you, yet!" Swiftly the long, glistering thing wound itself into coils, out from the center of which stared that glittering eye. Up came that something that Peter could now see was the tip of a tail. The tail began to quiver. Peter began to shiver. He was facing the terrible jaws of Mr. Rattlesnake—so close was that head Peter could even see the two sharp fangs in the top of its jaws. Then suddenly, just in time, Peter remembered something and gave a sharp yell. "Don't strike, Mr. Rattlesnake! Don't strike! I am no enemy. I have the lizard's tail!"

It would be hard to imagine anyone more surprised than was Mr. Rattlesnake at Peter's words. His tail gave a wabbling little quiver and back dropped his fangs, for of course no self-respecting serpent can keep his fangs up when his head is down. Mr. Rattlesnake stared at Peter with that unwinking eye, just as glistering, to be sure, as it had been before, but there was such a comical expression about his wide open mouth, his jaws sagging with astonishment, that the boy, in spite of his fear, had all he could do to keep from laughing. Plainly the Rattler was rattled.

How to Achieve Beauty

BY NINA HELENA RUBINSTEIN

How to Use Your Full-Length Mirror

Yesterday I talked to you about mirrors and their great importance in building your beauty. Of all the mirrors the most important is the full-length mirror.

Just stop to think how seldom you see "all of yourself." You look at your face and your hands, you catch a glimpse of your face in a glass, you see your feet coming toward you when you try on new shoes, but it is very seldom that the woman who does not have full length mirror in her home sees herself "as others see her." Your shoes may be neat, your hands well-gloved, your hair newly waved, your face well made up, your headdress chic, your clothes costly, yet if you are not well put together, you are not attractive.

To me, a full-length mirror is so essential that I do not see how a woman can get along without it.

Men who work on a ship come to think of it as a man does about his automobile and feel sure that no other could be quite so sturdy. Just to make conversation, I asked the bath steward if he looks for rough weather.

"No matter what the weather is, it can't hurt the Cedric, sir," was his reply. "There's no boat like this."

He couldn't have spoken any more enthusiastically if he had been referring to his Buick.

Be that as it may, this bath steward and I are growing quite friendly. He just told me that I can have a bath whenever I feel so inclined. I may take him up on it.

MENU HINTS

Do you have trouble getting your family to eat breakfast or are they hungry first thing in the morning? Breakfast is a hard meal to get, for everyone is in a hurry and it is hard to feel enthusiastic over cooking so early in the morning. Try to vary the menu as much as possible, preparing as much of the meal as you can the night before to expedite matters in the morning.

Orange Juice
Cooked Wheat Cereal with Top Milk
Creamed Tuna Fish or Dried Beef on Toast Cookies
Coffee

Today's Recipes

Cooked Cereal—The cereal may be cooked in the double boiler the night before, and warmed up in the morning. Many people think fruit, cereal and coffee is enough breakfast, and it is for people who are doing ordinary work. Growing young people and those who are out of doors a great deal should eat heartily, if possible.

Creamed Tuna Fish or Dried Beef—Make a cream sauce of one tablespoon butter, one tablespoon flour, one cup milk, salt and pepper. When smooth add one cup flaked tuna fish or shredded dried beef. Serve over squares of toast.

Whole Wheat Nut-Raisin Bread—Four cups whole wheat flour, four teaspoons baking powder, two teaspoons salt, one-half cup sugar, three-fourths cup nut meats (chopped coarsely), three-fourths cup chopped raisins, one egg, two cups milk. Mix and sift together the dry ingredients, add nuts and raisins. Beat egg light, add it to the milk. Combine. Beat well. Bake in two loaves in moderate oven 40 to 50 minutes.

Cakes—Little cakes may either be made the day before an affair or bought. Ice with orange icing. Ice cream molded in shapes and colors appropriate to the occasion may generally be secured of a caterer.

Rice and Cheese Casserole (Mrs. Mary Morton's Daily Tested Recipe.)

Boil three-fourths cup of rice in one quart boiling water until the rice has absorbed all the water. Melt one tablespoon of butter, add one cup of milk, add gradually a pint of milk and cook until smooth, seasoning with pepper and salt. Add one-half cup of grated or finely cut cheese and stir until it is dissolved. Mix with rice and put all in buttered baking dish. Sprinkle bread crumbs on top and brown in oven for 15 minutes.

BOY 13 "GETS HIS MAN"

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Sidney Perlow, just 13 years old, helps his father in his haberdashery at Sixth Avenue. One morning he started out to deposit $70 in a bank when three doors from the father's shop a man pulled him into a hallway and ordered "hands up." In the excitement the holdup man snapped the trigger and the boy saw that the "pistol" was merely a cigarette case. He snatched it and pursued the bandit who was caught in front of a police station. Two years ago the boy's father was held up and also "got his man."

Behind the Scenes in Washington

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. — For undiluted intangibility, a vacuum has little on the federal radio commission and all its works.

The commission itself is unsubstantial, uncertain, unreal. It was created by the skin of congress' teeth, in the very act of adjournment last spring. It so narrowly missed not being created at all that it did miss any salaries or a cent's worth of financial support.

Its constitutionality's doubtful. Tested, it's a question if there is any such thing.

In the absence of more legislation next winter—and the chances are even that there'll be none—even the present shadow of a commission will dissolve into its original nothingness, without leaving a greasy spot.

It deals in nothingnesses, too. Imagine one of its hearings!

CRZY asks certain indefinite privileges in an indefinite medium, to do something that nobody understands. MNCL objects, on the ground that it is unascertainable rights which it already enjoys would be prejudiced by the commission's acquiescence in CRZY's indefinite demands.

The Commission (investigation). What is it that CRZY hopes to accomplish if the radio board concurs in its unknown requirements?

CRZY: That remains to be seen.

The Commission: How do you prove it?

CRZY: We have 1,921 affidavits here, from listeners in, making oath that it's so.

The Commission: But how can your affidavits make oath so confidently, inasmuch as your inexplicable application is as yet unacted on?

CRZY: We asked them to.

The Commission: In that case the affidavits will be received and placed on file.

MNCL: We have seventeen pounds of affidavits to show that the loss to the indemonstrable number of our listeners-in would be incalculable if our sphere of activity were in any degree curtailed.

The Commission (to CRZY): How much do yours weigh?

CRZY: We counted ours. Shall we send out and get scales?

The Commission: Too late. You should have come prepared. Application dismissed for lack of evidence.

This may sound like an exaggeration, but it isn't so far off.

The commission, almost frankly, doesn't know whether it's afoot or horseback, trying to make a small kernel of air or other, or whatever it is, go round among a howling mob of broadcasters who need a hog-headful, if all are to be taken care of.

Add to this the fact that there are no known rules of procedure before the doarb, and it isn't so hard to realize why one of its hearings is a weird thing.

No known rules of procedure is right up to a certain point.

Nobody is known to the commissioners, that is to say, for there isn't a lawyer among the whole five.

Frank D. Scott, who was chairman of the house of representatives committee which wiggled the radio bill through congress at the last minute, is a lawyer, though, and he knows some rules.

Being out of congress now, there's no reason why he shouldn't practice before the commission and he does. If anybody knows the rules that go with his own law, why shouldn't he? However, it doesn't seem quite fair, unless they could have him on both sides of every case.

Living and Loving

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

MEN, HAVE YOU A PAST?

How about it, men, are there any of you past 36 who have not had a purple past? One discursive woman thinks not. Here is her letter:

"Dear Mrs. Lee: I have been reading your column in the paper and enjoy it so much. Do you think there are any nice unmarried men past 36 who have not had a 'past'? I am a teacher and every time I go to a new place there is always an old bachelor to whom I am introduced and he usually wants to call. After I have been out with him a few times the gossip begins telling me about his past and about his bad reputation. I am disgusted with them all. What do you think about them?"

"A DIXIE SCHOOL TEACHER" I think they average up pretty well with the women, my dear. The average man and woman are pretty decent, but if I were you I'd form my own conclusions about the character of my friends.

A little high school student also has her troubles with her male friends.

"My dear Mrs. Lee: I am a high school student, and I am very popular. There is a boy I am very fond of. He is two years my senior. His sister is one of my best friends."

"I have invited him to a party. At first he said he would come, then he told his sister he wasn't coming, then he said he would. This afternoon he told a friend of mine to tell me he wasn't coming if he had to go with me, so I told his sister to tell him that if I was spoiling his good time I would stay at home. Oh, I want him to like me, Mrs. Lee, so what shall I do?"

"BROWN EYES" I'm sorry you like him so much, Brown Eyes, because to me he seems just plain rude. If he did not care to attend the party with you he could easily have found an excuse, but he accepted and then was not enough of a gentleman to go through with it, but "told some one to tell me" he wouldn't go. Don't waste time on him, dear.

Will the lady who asked for the address of the woman who does plain sewing and signed her name with the initials, Mrs. E. G. D. please tell me the name of her town? I lost the envelope. So sorry.

ALMOST

"Yesterday I was within an ace of having a six-cylinder car given me."

"How was that?"

"When I was coming out of my door I saw the car in front of the house. I know the owner, so I went up to him and said: 'I say, give me this car.'"

"Well?"

HOME, SWEET HOME

The following was found pinned on the door of a deserted shanty in North Dakota: "Fore miles from a nabur; twenty-five miles from a post office; twenty-five miles from a r. r.; 180 miles from timber; have a mile from water; God bless our home. We're going East to get a fresh start."

HIGH HOPES

The sad-looking man stopped at the lunch-counter and said: "Five ham sandwiches, please."

"Will you eat them here or take them away?" asked the counter man.

"I hope to do both," was the reply.

The ladies are now wearing snakeskin shoes, thus consummating the ancient prophecy that the hoof of the woman should be bruised by the serpent.—Dallas News.

I Have Said in My Heart

By IDA H. MCGLONE GIBSON

INTRODUCTIONS

Manners always improve with the cultivation of the mind, and we can turn the rule around, for the acquirement of good manners can only be attained by education and observations, followed by habitual practice. It would be a good thing if we had another Addison or Steele to turn our attention to the manners of our day, as these distinguished writers did in the Spectator.

The great mistake that most people make is in acquiring too much manner. Simplicity of both thought and action is the basis of good breeding.

One must use her common sense as well as her kindness of heart and take into consideration that pretension is always a mark of vulgarity.

Introductions are made indiscriminately in America, and there is much to be learned in almost any set about the proper way to present one person to another.

In the first place, you should never introduce one person to another unless you know that it is agreeable to both of them. "But," you exclaim, "perhaps they are both at my home for an evening party!"

Then these ladies should know the English law that "roof is introduction" and remember that a casual conversation does not hurt anyone, neither does it entail a further acquaintance which might be awkward.

In making an introduction the gentleman is always presented to the lady. The younger woman to the older woman.

In her own home a hostess should always extend her hand to a person introduced to her.

At a dinner party the hostess need only introduce the gentleman to the lady that he is to take in to dinner.

When introducing a man always give him his title, even if you are his wife.

Introductions on the street are not in good taste, as one should not stop long enough in a promenade to present one person to another. If you are with someone and a friend stops her on the street, it is good taste for you to walk on slowly.

Memo: Strive to live up to your favorable introduction.

HISTORY PREDICTS VICTORY FOR OHIO IN ILLINOIS GAME

By DAVIS J. WALSH
I. N. S. Sports Editor
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 17.—Some heretic once said that history either seldom or never repeats and really it makes very little difference what he said because in both cases he is all wrong about the Ohio State-Illinois football series. If history repeats as it has in the past, then an inferior Ohio State team will win from a superior Illinois outfit on Saturday and prevent the latter from taking due title to the big ten championship.

It has been done before by supposedly weaker Buckeye or Illinois teams in time to cheat the supposedly stronger team out of the title. In fact, this game somehow has served as the crux of the western conference race a surprising number of times and has witnessed a series of surprising form handspins, as is proved by the following statistics:

1915—Ohio State, supposed to lose, got a 3 to 3 tie, forcing Illinois to accept a deadlock with Minnesota for the big ten title.

1916—Chick Harley's glory first saw the light of day as he scored the touchdown, tying Illinois, then changed shoes to kick the goal, beating the Illini and winning the title.

1919—Ohio State favored to win but Illini came through, 9 to 7, scoring Harley's only defeat of his conference career. The victory gave Illinois the big ten title.

1920—Ohio State beat Illinois with a forward pass, Workman to Myers, for the only touchdown of the game with the timekeeper's gun sounding the final signal as the ball was in the air. The victory staked the Buckeyes to the title.

1921—Ohio State was supposed to have championship at its mercy since Illinois had won no conference game. But it won this one, 9 to 0, and Iowa took the title.

1922—Ohio State had had a disastrous season, losing to Michigan, Minnesota, Chicago and Iowa. But the Buckeyes stepped out to win from Illinois 6 to 3.

1924—Illinois scored its first victory over Ohio State at Urbana since 1918, winning 7 to 0.

1926—Ohio State had one of the leading middle western teams and Illinois was merely ordinary but it carried the Buckeyes to a 7 to 6 score before it succumbed.

And there one is, as we say at the abattoir. Except for the first game of the series in 1914, which Illinois won by a 37 to 0, no game between Ohio State and Illinois has been decided by a margin greater than nine points, regardless of what may have been thought of the teams in the pre-game calculations. And of the nine games played, five of them either had an indirect or an extremely direct bearing on the disposal of the Big Ten championship.

So it will be on Saturday. If Illinois can win, it will have a clean conference record and cannot be deprived of the title, regardless of what Minnesota does to Michigan or vice versa, mostly versa.

It wasn't for what has gone before, one would be only a sap to grant Ohio State a chance on Saturday, for the Buckeyes have blown away games to Northwestern, Michigan and Princeton and looked none too good in doing it. But, then, there is always the possibility of all extraneous forces at Ohio moving in the same direction at one and the same time.

It may be that those temperamental Buckeye backs will run interference for one another just by way of variety. It may be that Dr. John Wilce, threatened with the guillotine by agitated alumni, will get his forward line playing smart, up and coming football for the occasion.

Even if these things do happen, Illinois should be a natural favorite. But not to win by a big score. History simply forbids any one from being so optimistic as all of that.

JUMPER WOULD JUMP 10,000 FEET

RALPH S. DOUGLAS

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to Gazette

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Nov. 17.—Two miles—straight down! This is the feat Ralph S. Douglas, erstwhile actor, steeple jack and parachute jumper, soon will try.

For science, the thrill, and a little money, Douglas will leap from an airplane traveling 100 miles an hour 15,000 feet above Santa Monica, near here, and give the watchers a "free fall" of 10,000 feet.

At the 5,000-foot level, or thereabouts, he plans to pull the rip cord of his parachute.

Tried for New Record

How far can a man fall and retain consciousness?

That is the question he will decide while rolling earthward. Sergeant Bowes, of the army air service, holds the record of 4,200 feet for such a fall. He tumbled that earlier this year, before opening his chute.

Where Bowes had several bones broken, Douglas hopes to land without a scratch.

Douglas' tremendous speed will be halted by a sturdy harness which has a total tensile breaking strength of 12,000 pounds. Ten shroud lines which lead from the harness to the chute proper have a total breaking strength of 10,000 pounds. Such is his factor of safety!

This twenty-nine-year-old married veteran of the World War has made over 700 parachute jumps—far over Selfridge Field, Michigan, all successful!

STAR FLANKER TO PLAY FINALE

Leroy Doak, senior, flashy colored left end on Central High School's football eleven, who winds up his high school gridiron career next week, will play his final game before a home-town crowd in the Xenia-U. of D. Preps contest Friday afternoon.

Doak has been playing an exceptional game this season at the flank position, putting terror and fear in the minds of opposing gridirons on the offense and doing everything on the defense expected of him. He is one of the best, if not the best, receiver of forward passes on the squad, and especially dangerous and difficult to upset or receiving aerials.

Doak is also a "ball hawk" and follows the pigskin so closely that he recovers numerous fumbles. Often when Xenia has needed a long gain to make first down, Doak has been called to the backfield and invariably, with his elusiveness, makes the needed yardage.

Doak's place, among others, will be particularly difficult to fill next year.

TO HONOR SENIORS AT FOOTBALL GAME

"Senior Recognition Day" will be observed, incident to the Central High School-Dayton Preps football game Friday afternoon.

Shortly before the contest begins, the eleven senior members of the grid squad will be recognized in some way by school officials for their efforts on the team.

It is possible all the senior players may be given a chance to play in the game.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG
The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil as a substitute for calomel to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c, 30c and 60c.

Grid Captains

—TENNESSEE

Tennessee is making a strong bid for the Southern Conference championship this season under the capable leadership of John Barnhill, chosen almost unanimously for a guard position on last year's all-Southern eleven.

Barnhill has been an outstanding star ever since the day he first donned an orange-colored jersey in the fall of 1925. Despite the handicap of weighing only about 165 pounds he is a glutton for work and has missed starting and finishing in very few games during his college career.

In addition to playing football, Barnhill is a member of the Tennessee basketball and track teams. He also plays baseball but is unable to participate in the diamond pastime at Tennessee due to its season running concurrent with that of track.

Barnhill is showing better than ever this year and has served notice by his spectacular play in early season games that he intends repeating for all-Southern laurels.

Your Doctor will Tell You How to Correct Constipation

This IS a way of overcoming the tendency to constipation. And here is how you can PROVE it. The next time your bowels need any assistance, don't take the first laxative that comes to mind. Take one the druggist can assure you is made with cascara. Just as effective as using force, and it's good for the system. Indeed, it helps to make good blood. For cascara is nothing but the bark of a tree. The Indians chew this bark, and live to an old age without a day's sickness.

What happens when you cascaraize the bowels? They will usually function well for SEVERAL DAYS. One more dose no larger, and perhaps smaller than the first—and the bowels function of their own accord for a still longer time. Until you don't feel the need of any aid of any sort for weeks-on-end. So, the old yabai you get from cascara is that of natural and normal regularity. How different from nothing one must usually repeat on the morrow! Cascara is the ideal laxative; and the familiar little candy cascarelle is doubtless its ideal form. Children beg for these tasty tablets, and many men and women wouldn't think of taking ANYTHING else for the purpose. And EVERY druggist has them.

CASCARETS
They Work While You Sleep!

My Dear Followers:

When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a STAMPED, SELF-ADDRESSED envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose TEN cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, NOT OVER 200 WORDS, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible. If they are of general interest, don't forget the STAMPED, SELF-ADDRESSED ENVELOPE if you expect me to send you the information I have offered. — Lulu Hunt Peters.

Answers to Correspondents

Food and Health
"It would seem that the principal cause of death lies in food and drink."

Dr. Hindhede of Denmark published this sentiment, when, during the war, he had charge of the food administration of Denmark. He based this startling conclusion upon the fact that when the diet of the people was regulated as it was in Denmark during that period, the death rate decreased in one year thirty-four per cent. Part of the regulation consisted of this: The cereals and potatoes were taken from the distilleries so that no brandy was made; one-half of the cereals were taken from the brewers and the beer was cut down one-half, so there was less alcohol consumption. Practically all of the animals, except the milk animals, were killed; therefore the diet was a lacto-vegetarian diet. The breads were made of whole rye, with wheat bran and barley meal added. There was a great consumption of potatoes, cabbage and milk, and as I have said, a much lessened consumption of alcohol and practically no meat.

Dr. Hindhede's conclusion about a vegetarian diet was that it is more wholesome because "overnutrition, as a result of palatable meat dishes, is one of the common causes of disease."

Would you like our article on the "Balanced Diet"? If so, send a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

A Look in the Mirror Satisfies
"Thanks to you and God, I have found something to reduce me. Dear Dr. Lulu! I did weigh 237, and in two and one-half months I have lost thirty-four pounds. I am in perfect health and at the top of the round diet you gave as nearly as possible. I found I couldn't reduce on 1,200 C. went down to 1,000, but didn't succeed, then went to 800 before I began to lose. I do strenuous exercises every day and walk about three miles. If I feel hungry, I look in the mirror—that's enough for me!"

There's one thing that I haven't mentioned frequently enough, perhaps, and that is that you may be a little while on 1,200 calories daily before you begin to reduce. Mrs. K. But eventually you will reduce, because no up-and-around person can get enough food from 1,200 C. diet to supply all the energy needs and the surplus body fat must be called upon.

However, there are some who undoubtedly have to go on lower than 1,200 in order to reduce as much as one and one-half or two pounds a week, which is the amount most people want to lose. But only one pound a week will total fifty-two pounds a year! Those who can't reduce on 1,200 C. are usually short in stature and not active physically. There is another thing to be thought of, and that is, that perhaps the foods are not being counted high enough in calories. For instance, foods that contain more butter and oil than you think, you would count much higher. Perhaps what you think amounts to 800 or 900 may be much more!

Except for the first week, when if you go on the liquid or semi-liquid diet for three days (shrink stomach period), you will lose five to ten pounds, two pounds a week is enough to lose. You have lost at a higher rate than this, which shows that your 800 C. a day reduces you more than necessary. Mirrors certainly are a great help. I know that, Mrs. K. Too bad that more don't use 'em, isn't it? Perhaps if they did they would send for our pamphlet on reducing and gaining weight! It can be obtained for a self-addressed, stamped envelope and ten cents in stamps to cover the cost of printing and handling.

"What is the function of the stomach?" teacher asked in the primary physiology class.
"I know," one little girl responded. "It's to hold up the skirt!"
Is yours functioning in this manner? If so, better send for our list of exercises. Atomic Abdominal Wall, and do especially those under the caption "The Tummy Tens." (Enclose only a self-addressed stamped envelope.)

NOTE: Please send in stamped addressed envelope with requests for answers.

RHEUMATISM

May be relieved by rational treatment—it can not be rubbed away.

Are you one of those unfortunate ones who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, commonly called rheumatism, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep?

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.? For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude. "I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried almost everything. Went to Hot Springs. . . . then finally decided to try

S.S.S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S.S.S. is the best." Earl C. Campbell, 115 West Main Street, Johnson City, Tenn.

S.S.S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

RAWLINS THE BOW AND Arrow Maker Gets Peeved!

Of course, you all know by now how this Rawlins coming to the strange town of Andulsia had turned all sorts of attention his way by the PRICES he made on Bows and Arrows. You read how his aim was to get ALL the Bow and Arrow business away from the Old Boys who had been making bows and arrows for years and then after this was accomplished and the old boys were out of the way, RAISE HIS PRICES back to standard.

And you also read how Rawlins discussed all this with a local gossip who TOLD the Old Boys and then you read how the old boys got busy and snatched on Rawlins right out loud in the newspaper and how the public when they saw what was going on gave one large laugh and bought their bows and arrows from the Old Boys who LIVED IN ANDULSIA. Now we are up to date and ready to go further.

Rawlins seeing how his trade was slipping and being a good business man doubled and trebled his ADVERTISING!

He used extra horn blowers, extra town criers and large sheets of skin all covered with PRICES on his bows and arrows. And these PRICES sure were LOW.

But the Old Boys were united now and were also able to cut THEIR prices sometimes even lower than Rawlins. They too advertised loudly and with violence for they figured that if they were to stay in business, they had to do as good if not BETTER than Rawlins.

And that's the way things stood in the Fall of the year 1447 A. D.

SPECIAL GRAND JURY SESSION WILL CONSIDER SEVEN CASES

Judge R. L. Gowdy has ordered the October grand jury to convene in special session in Common Pleas Court Monday morning at 9 o'clock for consideration of seven cases listed on the criminal docket.

Twenty-six witnesses are to be subpoenaed to testify before the grand jury.

Among the more important cases to be considered are those of Troy Bartlett and Earl Sayre, both of Clarksville, W. Va., charged with robbery and carrying concealed weapons, respectively. They were arrested a month ago in connection with a holdup at The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co. branch store at Main and West Sts., and an unsuccessful attempt later the same night to hold up Ralph Chambliss, Cincinnati Ave., on W. Second St.

Police failed to implicate Sayre in either holdup but Mayor John W. Prugh bound him over to the grand jury October 21 on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. Bartlett, a companion of Sayre, partially identified as one of two youthful bandits who robbed the grocery store, was returned to Xenia from Clarksville and charged with robbery. He pleaded not guilty, November 7.

An indictment will be sought against William Hicks, colored, charged a statutory offense, committed against his fifteen-year-old stepdaughter, Eula Raspberry. Hicks was held to the grand jury by Mayor Prugh Wednesday.

Other cases to be considered include: John Morgan, charged with concealing stolen property and held to the grand jury by Mayor Prugh October 31; Bertha Harris, charged with cutting with intent to kill, bound over by Mayor Prugh October 18; and Dallas E. Shipley, placed under $200 peace bond September 29 by a justice of the peace. The case was continued from the May term of court.

Shipley was arrested on a complaint filed by George Ross and Martha Shipley charging that he made a threat September 12 that "there would be some shooting going on here and that I will get even with them." Shipley pleaded not guilty.

FOUR FIRMS BID ON DITCH CONTRACT

Four firms have submitted bids to County Engineer W. J. Davis for construction work and furnishing materials in connection with the proposed improvement of the single-county ditch, known as the Paulin ditch, petitioned for by J. F. Snodgrass, J. A. Watkins and others, according to a report filed with County Commissioners.

Each firm is required to submit separate bids for labor and materials.

Contracts will not be awarded until a bond issue is completed to finance the improvement.

SENTENCED TO JAIL FOR NON-SUPPORT

Pleading guilty to a charge of non-support, Harry Pemberton, Cedarville, was fined $10 and costs and sentenced to serve one year in the County Jail by Probate Judge S. C. Wright Thursday morning.

Pemberton was arrested on an affidavit filed by his wife, charging failure to provide for their four children.

Knocks Out Rheumatic Agony In 5 Days

Sayre's Drug Store Offers Trial of Wonder Working Capsules On Money Back Basis

Why men and women will go on suffering terrible rheumatic agony and run the risk of being permanently crippled and helpless is beyond all understanding, say druggists, when a few days use of those little wonder capsules Allenhu No. 2 will bring glorious relief and quickly clear up every twinge and ache—even for those who have been victims for years.

To back up this statement, to prove to every sufferer of rheumatic torture in this county that the claims for Allenhu Number 2 are not exaggerated in any way, Sayre's Drug Store and every druggist who is dispensing this quick-acting remedy make this offer—a fair and square offer if ever one was made:

If after using Allenhu Number 2 Capsules as directed for 5 days there is a pain or ache left—if you are not free from rheumatic distress your money will be promptly refunded without comment.

VETERAN EDITOR FOR 62 YEARS

JAMES B. STANLEY

GREENVILLE, Ala., Nov. 17.—"Keeping everlastingly at it brings success."

This was the motto adopted by James B. Stanley when he decided to establish a weekly newspaper in Greenville.

That it served him well is evidenced by the fact Stanley has just concluded sixty-two years as editor and publisher of that newspaper, the Greenville Advocate.

His career as editor of one newspaper for so long a period is unusual in the history of American journalism.

"A long time, yes," he muses. "But it seems only a few short years since I glanced over the first issue of the Advocate as it came off the press in October of 1865."

Served in Rebellion Greenville has not a single business house that existed when Stanley founded the Advocate.

Returning home from the Confederate army after the war, the now veteran editor found Greenville was to be left without a printing plant by the removal of the newspaper formerly published here.

He had gained a little experience in a printing office before the war and decided to start a newspaper of his own.

FIRE IN TUNNEL

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Fire, the dread of the huge Holland tunnel, opened but several days ago connecting New Jersey and New York under the Hudson River, caused a brief disturbance late yesterday when a motor truck suddenly flamed up in the tube while scores of motorists were routed safely through.

SENTENCE DESERTER

ELIZABETH, N. J., Nov. 17.—Joseph Dever, former Plainfield policeman who eloped to Columbus, O., last March with Mrs. Linda H. Bache, wife of a millionaire Plainfield manufacturer, today faced a year at hard labor for deserting his wife and child at the time of his romance.

Rupture Shield Expert Here

E. J. Meinhardt, of Chicago, the well-known expert will personally be at the Miami Hotel, Dayton, Ohio, on Wednesday, November 23rd, from 9:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m., and on Thursday, November 24th, from 9:00 a. m. to 12:00 Noon only.

Mr. Meinhardt says: "The Meinhardt Vacuum Shield" will not only retain the rupture perfectly, but contracts the opening in 10 days on the average, usually giving instantaneous relief withstanding all strain regardless of the size or location of the rupture.

CAUTION—Do not expose yourself to the danger of wearing old-style trusses with under-strings. These trusses usually place the pad on the lump and not on the rupture opening. This often causes strangulation which usually necessitates an immediate surgical operation or results in sudden death.

The Meinhardt Vacuum Shield has no understrings. It is also perfectly sanitary and practically indestructible and can be worn while bathing.

Only gentlemen are invited to call at this time as special arrangements will be announced later for women and children.

NOTICE: Please do not write asking to be fitted by mail as this is impossible. I send out no literature as every case must be seen personally; therefore, I visit this section every year—giving demonstration without charge, or will be pleased to fit you if desired. All cases that I have fitted here during the past five years will please call for inspection. Please note the above dates and hours carefully and always insist on seeing me personally. (This visit is for white people only.)

PILOT IS CHAMP FIRE FINDER

C. A. BURROWS

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to Gazette

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Nov. 17.—All sorts of champions bob up, but C. A. Burrows, former army pilot and now flyer for Uncle Sam's forest patrol, claims a new one.

In fair weather and foul, Burrows takes to the air over southern California's four national forests. Sometimes over the Angeles, again over the Cleveland, now around the San Bernardino and then over the Santa Barbara he flies, ever in search of forest fires.

When he sights smoke, he circles the spot several times. He makes a note of its probable duration, its direction and intensity. Then he flies to the nearest group of fire fighters to warn them of the new flames.

Service is Valuable There is nothing particularly mysterious about forest fires. Forests have been subject to fires for many years. The effect of these fires is recorded in the forests themselves and the record is impartial and unchangeable.

The full effect of a forest fire cannot be easily appreciated for fire injury is cumulative and to understand the consequences of today's fires one must know how often the forests have been subjected to fire injury in the past.

But this thing of an airplane skimming tree tops and soaring away in search of fire is relatively new to the forests. And just as effective as it is new, for the observer, flying nearly a mile above the forest, can spot even the smallest blaze a long distance away.

The flying fire fighter keeps southern California's wooded playgrounds safe against conflagration.

TINGLEY DEVELOPS NEW BURIAL GROUND AT LOUISVILLE, KY.

Lewis C. Tingley, Louisville, Ky., former secretary of the Xenia Chamber of Commerce, is founder of Resthaven Memorial Cemetery, at Louisville, which has just completed a year of development.
Mr. Tingley, who was connected with the Memorial Park Cemetery development in Dayton, organized the company to develop the Louisville property, in Dayton and the company started operations with 120 acres of available land near Louisville.

Development began August 25, 1926 and since that time 1,514 lots have been sold to 1,241 lot owners and total sales have amounted to $201,125. The first interment was made last February and now the remains of seventy-one people are resting there. A fund is appropriated from the sale of lots to enjoy perpetual care for the burying ground and it is estimated that $300,000 will be available for this purpose when all lots have been sold.

Initial construction of the cemetery included more than a mile of macadam roadway and a vast drainage project, and the grounds are now undergoing complete beautification. Details of the work accomplished by the organization were given recently in an advertisement in the rotogravure section of the Louisville, Ky., Herald-Post.

of their 14th annual convention.
Discussion of railroad problems as they affect the traveling public will make up the day's program.

CLEAN KIDNEYS BY DRINKING LOTS OF WATER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder Bothers or Back Hurts

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form, says a well-known authority, because the acids created excite the kidneys. Then they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your famous salts will make them. Your kidneys are made from acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder disorders.
Jad Salts cannot injure anyone;
makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders.

The Theater

What started out as a little skit for the Lambs' Club Gambol has developed into a Broadway success. Elliott Nugent is one of the authors, with John Wray and Elaine Sterne Carrington of "Nightstick" which is packing them in at the Selwyn.

The skit was developed into a standard sketch for vaudeville.
It is more and more authors lent a hand and it grew into a full-length auto-drama called "One of the Boys."
The title was changed to "Night-stick" and now it is in for a run at the Selwyn. The show is said to have plenty of suspense, surprise and unusually good comedy.

"And So To Bed" a comedy written and directed by James B.
Fagan as a sequel to the diary of Samuel Pepys, is presented by Lee Shubert at the Shubert. Fagan supplies an extension of the jotting of the famous diary and the play, according to critics, is a well rounded and finished piece of stage craft.

CHILDREN'S BOOKS FORM INTERESTING LIBRARY EXHIBIT

The Greene County District Library has on display, this week, an attractive exhibit of children's books.

The best of the new, old favorites in new dresses, picture books for the jittiest ones and "thrillers" for the older ones, jostle one another in gay profusion on the tables in the big main reading room.

The exhibit was made possible by the generosity of the Pettibone-McLean Book Store of Dayton and a number of Xenia women who loaned books from their own libraries so that others might see them too. More than 150 books are on display. Of these many belong to the library itself.

The library is feeling happy over the "Map of America's Making" which is on display in the circulation room. It was a gift to the li-these books. Christmas is coming for you if you wish, although the

Doctor Found What is Best for Thin, Constipated People

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half of his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their il-nesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

J. B. Caldwell M.D.
AT AGE 83

In the course of his 47 years' practice (he was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1875), he found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with pepsin.
In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year his prescription was first placed on the market.

The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in his private practice. Now, the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it. Millions of bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are being used a year.

JUDGE OFFERS NEW MARRIAGE PLAN

Judge Charles Burnell

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to Gazette.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 17.—After passing upon 6,000 domestic cases, Judge Charles Burnell, of Los Angeles, advocates "limited marriage contracts with option of renewal," as a solution to the divorce problem which now exists. He scores present day divorces, contending they foster perjury and are mere farces, since both parties are usually eager for separation, only contesting the suit because of property rights or children.

"I tell you," Judge Burnell reasons, "I have come to the conclusion this is all just a matter of human nature, and that whatever is now, will continue to be under any legal system we may devise. I've done a lot of thinking about this question since I came on the bench."

Not Romance Insurance
"As I see it, marriage for a term of five years or ten years or any other period is not the answer. Matrimony, as it is from the legal standpoint, seems to me to have been designed as a contract out of which might arise certainty as to parentage of children and property ownership and descent."

"Well, it provides that certainty, within reasonable limits of accuracy. But I don't believe that, legally, it ever was developed to constitute an insurance of life-long romance. Those who look for that from it probably are placing too much strain upon the institution, and I surmise that this expectation is one of the underlying reasons for the increasing prevalence of divorce."

"It is my conviction that men and women must take their choice between the legal advantages accruing from matrimony and the pursuit of romance, and that they can't have both."

"I do not think a five-year marriage will alter this situation and we are forced in the end to rely upon what I believe scientists now accept as a fact, that humankind, like some other species, naturally tends to a fixed marriage relation, that promiscuity is a fable, that certain individuals will vary more or less than from the normal, and let it go at that."

GOLDEN RULE PRESERVES PEACE

MARSHAL FLOYD BLUM AND POLICE CHIEF A. E. ANDERSON, OF ESCONDIDO, CAL.

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to Gazette.

ESCONDIDO, Cal., Nov. 17.—No murders, no juvenile court, no jail "blotter" for residents.

That, if you please, is Escondido. But it is largely the story of A. E. Anderson, this town's altitudinous chief of police, and Fred Blum, abbreviated deputy sheriff and city marshal.

The sun seldom sets on vagrants here. Drifters are unwelcome and told so. And so they move on with the coming of night, and Escondido sleeps on in a safety known to few communities.

Has No Juvenile Court
Residents say Escondido is the most peaceful town they have known.

The juvenile court disappeared when Anderson came into office four years ago.

"I felt that the prominent men about town should take the time to talk to boys," he explains. "Men show them their errors and help them do the right thing."

"A boy put on his honor by a man who is honorable will help more than any reformatory."

Anderson, who is more than six feet tall, and Blum, the "shorty" of the pair, run Escondido. And run it they do. Even the gypsies pass right through for greener pastures.

Golden Rule Prevails
Sited in the foothills, forty miles from the Pacific, Escondido is a main port of call between Los Angeles and San Diego. Many visitors pass her doors, yet few tarry long enough to receive an official unwelcome. Those who would catch the police chief's eye seem to sense the attitude of the community and move on.

So it is a town of honor. The men live by the Golden Rule and teach the younger generation to abide by its tenets. And they live happily and prosperously among themselves.

FIREMEN ANSWER THREE ALARMS IN THIRTEEN HOURS

Despite the continuous rainfall of the last twenty-four hours, firemen answered three alarms within thirteen hours between 6 p. m. Wednesday and 7 a. m. Thursday.

Fire, suspected by Fire Chief William Hanftan of being of incendiary origin, damaged four or five bales of broom straw in a box car on a siding of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad on W. Second St. at 6:20 p. m. Wednesday.

The straw was the property of the Hunt broom factory, Dayton Ave. The blaze may have been caused by sparks from a passing locomotive. Fire in the straw bales was again discovered one hour and forty minutes later the same evening, but was extinguished with less difficulty than before. The damage was not great.

Damage not to exceed $20 was caused when a truck owned by The Eavey Co., wholesale grocers, caught on fire at the Schmidt Oil Co. filling station, S. Detroit St. Thursday morning at 7:10 o'clock. The blaze was discovered beneath the gasoline tank and was attributed to a short circuit.

"I Am Very Glad With The Order"

In far away Sao Paulo there are tiny shops where one may purchase carved fans of sandalwood and filmy lengths of real lace, but Senor Silva wanted a vacuum bottle and a leather belt, and he wanted them to be of excellent quality and at a price his modest salary could afford.

So he wrote us a long letter in Portuguese explaining his wishes, and in due time the Bottle and the Belt departed for South America. Apparently, Senor Silva was pleased with them, because the other day we received this letter:

"I am very glad with the order. Thank you."

You may smile, perhaps at the phraseology, but to us it represents an ideal of service.

Every night when the last parcel has left our counters, we wonder if deep down in the heart of every customer we have served that day is the thought, "I am very glad with the order. Thank you."

We hope so. This is the success we hope to achieve.

READ THIS FIRST:

LILY LEXINGTON is the spoiled only daughter of the CYRUS LEXINGTONS who live far beyond their means. Her mother's fondest dreams are realized when she becomes engaged to S. T. A. L. E. Y. DRUMMOND, a rich bachelor older than herself. The day after he proposes she goes down town to meet her chum, SUE CAIN, and sees a man watching her through the crowd. She is oddly attracted by him before she sees that he is a taxi driver. Then she jumps into his cab and he drives her home. She learns that he owns his own cab in a company headed by his friend, ROY JETTERSON. However, he intends to sell it, he says, to finance a piston ring invention of his.

Getting out of the cab, Lily takes his chauffeur's card out of its place because it has a picture of him on it. She begins to realize, as days go by, that she is in love with him. But the time she has to wait for him is not long. Lily, her mother announces their engagement and she resigns herself to it. The wedding date is set for the tenth of June.

And about the tenth of May Mrs. Lexington hires a new chauffeur, and when he comes he is Pat France! From the minute she sees him she knows she never can marry Staley and actually asks Pat to marry her. But he points out to her that she was not made for a poor man's wife. One morning they take the car without asking Mrs. Lexington's permission and go for a picnic. On the way Pat shows Lily his parents' little house and their grocery store, with his mother standing in the doorway. He tells Lily that his own wife would probably have to work as his mother has and she has brought up her children, as well as helped in the store all her life. Lily says she wouldn't mind housework as soon as she learned how to do it. She never has done a day's work in her life.

Then Pat introduces her to his friends, the Roy Jettersons, and Lily instantly detests the wife, SADYE, because of her loud clothes and because she is a friend of ELIZABETH ERTZ, with whom Pat has been going around. On their home from the picnic they pass Mrs. Lexington and Sue Cain's mother, who see them. Reaching home, Lily finds Carrie, her mother's maid, looking at the chauffeur's card with Pat's picture on it. She snatches it from her, knowing that Carrie is in love with Pat and resenting it.

CHAPTER XVI

Lily glared at Carrie, and Carrie glared back at her. Then all at once she shrugged her shoulders and laughed. "No wonder you want it, Miss Lily," she said, looking at the ragged, soiled card in Lily's hands. "Your mother would be proud and happy to find Pat's picture in your room, wouldn't she?" Without a word Lily tore the card into tiny bits and tossed them into the rose-trimmed waste basket under her dressing table.

"Maybe she'd understand why you and Pat disappeared with the car this morning without saying a word to anybody, so that she had to ask Mrs. Cain to take her to the church luncheon this noon." Carrie's voice ran on maliciously. "I told her you had asked me to pack a lunch for two and had gone away with just Pat—with just the chauffeur. And I told the same thing to Mr. Drummond when he stopped in to ask about you and your headache. Your headache!—Huh!"

Lily tried hard to keep her temper. Mrs. Lexington had taught her never to quarrel with anyone who was working in the house.

But anger flashed in her gray eyes and her voice trembled with fury when she answered the little housemaid. "Carrie," she said, "you've worked in this family too many years. I think you'd be happier if you went up to your room and packed your trunk. We'll send it to you tomorrow—or whenever you find a new place to work."

Carrie tossed her head. "I'll be finding a new place to work with your clothes and no to leave this house, and not before. I'm not taking orders from you," she snapped. "And I guess your mother won't be letting me go in a hurry, either. Not while she's owing me six weeks' salary!" And with that she changed her mind about staying with the Lexingtons until Mrs. Lexington discharged her, after all. What was there in staying, she asked herself, when the only man she had taken a fancy to in years had fallen in love with the daughter of the house?

A half hour later she walked out of the side door, leaving behind her the tin trunk and the six weeks' back pay, together with a note asking Mrs. Lexington to send both of them to her brother's house in Appleton court, on the west side of town.

Pat saw her go from the window of his room above the garage and thought nothing of it.

Lily saw her, too, and knew why she had gone. She ran downstairs and found the note she had left for Mrs. Lexington. She tore it open to find out if Carrie had written anything about herself and Pat in it. She had. She had written everything she knew about them!

"Dear Mrs. Lexington," she had written in her neat, round hand. "Miss Lily has just told me to leave the house, and I am going. She is jealous of me because Pat, the chauffeur, likes me too well to suit her."

"Please send my trunk and the $96 you owe me right away to my brother's house, where I am going. His name is Charlie Petrie, and his address is—"

Lily read no more.

She slipped the note into the pocket of her dress and carried it upstairs to her own room. She locked the door and carefully wrote another note in Carrie's neat hand, leaving out the bit about Pat and herself.

Then she sealed it and took it downstairs to her mother's desk. It did not occur to her that she was doing a dishonest thing—committing a forgery—writing a lie.

She smiled to herself at her own cleverness as she laid it down upon a pile of bills for her own wedding clothes—for princess slips of apple-blossom pink and robin's egg blue—for silk stockings, satin slippers, paste buckles—for gloves and dresses and hats. All of it raiment for Staley Drummond's bride!

"If I marry Pat I'll have enough clothes for a while, anyway," she said gaily to herself, pausing at the hall window to look at the garage in the back yard. It had become a place of dreams and enchantment—that plain and ugly little building—because it housed Pat.

Mrs. Lexington came home from her luncheon at church at 5 o'clock.

"Yes, sub, cap'n I shush was. I was in the army for two weeks." He fished in an overalls pocket and drew out a card. "This heah card will prove it," he finished proudly.

Rises To Say!

Just because we have here in this shop the finest and most complete outfit for taking care of WRECKS and the equipment to get you "back on the road" quicker than any other firm in southern Ohio is no reason why I wish you the misfortune of HAVING such a wreck!

In the restaurant business the proprietor wishes quite eagerly for you to get all full of hunger so he can measure you for one of his $1 Table D'hotes. It's all very different when you are serving WRECKING SERVICE.

Still it's sure a comfort to know that when you suffer a bust or a break out on some forsaken road at two bells in the A. M. that a fast "ring on the phone" will bring our hard looking "wrecking crew" out to take you back to civilization.

I wanted to blow a bit about dented fenders and what we do to them but there's not enuf space here so I'll wait until its AGAIN my turn to tell you about this.

LES.

NOTE:—Each week there appears here a line of comment by SOME one connected with the Swigart Bros. organization.

A THREE DAYS COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)
